Jobless Figure At Peak

Postwar Record

(CP and BUP Dispatches)
OTTAWA—Unemployment in Canada soared during February to new postwar peaks.

Only bright spot was the Pacific coast where the number of job-seekers declined by 2,848 to 62,110, about 10 per cent of the 613,439 applications for work on file with National Employment Service.

In every other area the number of NES job applications advanced substantially.

The new figures came on the eve of Parliament's renewal on Tuesday of its debate on unemployment, its causes and cures.

The reports issued today emphasized that "while unemployment continued to climb in February, the pace was slower than last year."

Two reports were issued.

Bureau of Statistics said the number of jobless seeking work on February 19 was 379,000—up 16,000 from the 363,000 listed January 22. On February 20, 1954 the comparable total was 315,000.

Federal Labor department reported 613,439 persons were registered for work in NES offices on February 17. This new post-war record was an increase of 43,857 from January 20 and a jump of 54,370 from February 18, 1954.

Neither figure is offered by the government as an accurate count of the unemployed. Labor and political spokesmen in the capital generally cite the higher figure for the most accurate.

While the number of jobless rose sharply there also was some increase in the number of workers with jobs. The labor department estimated that in the week ended Feb. 19, the number of employed totaled 5,012,000, about 42,000 higher than in the similar week of the previous year.

COULDN'T ABSORB EXTRA

But the economy, at its February pace, wasn't able to absorb the expansion in the labor force. The number of persons in the labor force totaled 5,391,000 on Feb. 19, up 106,000 from last year.

The labor department and bureau of statistics, in a joint statement, said a significant change in employment this year from a year ago was the smaller average monthly decline in employment. Employment declined in the last three months on an average of 71,000 a month compared with 83,000 a year ago.

"The most significant change in employment from last year has been the much smaller seasonal decline in non-farm employment, the monthly average decline for the last three months being 33,000 compared with 73,000 last year. The rate of increase in those without jobs and seeking work has been considerably less rapid over the last three months than a year earlier."

PACIFIC AREA DOWN

Referring to the 613,000 applications for jobs in employment offices, the labor department said all regions—with the exception of the Pacific—shared in the rise in applications.

Compared with January, the biggest increase was in Quebec, where the number of applications for work jumped by 25,082 to 200,799. Applications in the Maritimes increased by 9,751 to 80,001; in the Prairies by 6,885 to 90,552; in Ontario by 4,887 to 179,677.

But in the Pacific area, better conditions in the logging industry helped reduce the number of applications by 2,848 to 62,110.

Big CNR Deficit

OTTAWA (BUP)—The Canadian National Railways today reported a net 1954 deficit of $28,738,098 after the sharp revenue slump in its history and the deepest cut in expenses since 1932.

Two Families Flee Oak Bay Fire

Happy to have escaped injury when fire gutted their home at 1973 Crescent Road, Saturday night, are Mrs. Beryl Smallwood, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Phyllis Smallwood, and their families. Two mothers snatched their sleeping children from their beds and fled to safety when fire broke out. City and Oak Bay firemen attended and fought intense smoke and heat. Reunited today after their narrow escape, were Mrs. Phyllis Smallwood (left), and her two daughters, Dawn, five, and Susan, two; and Mrs. Beryl Smallwood, with her two children, Vivien, four and a half, and Trevor. (See story, Page 13).

VANCOUVER GETS SNOW TO USHER IN SPRING

VANCOUVER (CP)—Spring made its official debut in Vancouver today on the winds of a swirling, wet snow-storm.

The storm dumped up to three inches of snow in suburban areas.

WINNIPEG (CP)—The low temperature overnight in Winnipeg was 14 below.

LONDON (AP)—The first day of spring brought snow, gales and freezing weather to parts of the British Isles and Christmas-like weather to many other sections of Europe.

THE POWER OF POSITIVE THINKING For Young People

(A revision of Dr. Norman Vincent Peale's best two-year best-seller "The Power of Positive Thinking" the following is one of a daily series of articles, specially directed to young people but helpful to all ages.)

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE
CHAPTER VI
YOU GET WHAT YOU EXPECT

"It's useless to send my boy to college," a troubled father said to me. "He's had to carry five subjects all the way through high school: four advanced, and one make-up. He seems to have a genius for failure. I'm greatly disturbed about his future."

I tried to reassure the man, telling him of other boys I knew who, as they grew older, got onto themselves, so to speak, and learned the curiously simple but potent answer to turning failure into success. And this proved true in the case of this boy: he did acquire the secret. His personality began to focus, his powers to fuse. He went through college very well indeed. He became a leader in school activities, and his marks were well up. After graduating he got a good job and while still in his twenties was a prominent person in town.

Not long ago at a luncheon I could not help admiring the dynamic young man who presided—the boy whose father had said he had a genius for failure. He had, I knew, worked up an original idea into a coming business and was a leader in his community. I asked him about the reasons for his success.

He smiled at me and his smile was charming. "You ought to know," he said. "You gave it to me. You emphasized it in a talk I heard you give one Sunday when I attended your church. 'If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth.' (Mark 9:23)."

That, in essence, is the simple answer which anyone—boy or man, girl or woman—can follow who is trying to turn failure into success. Train your mind to believe, to think positively, to have faith in God and yourself. Expect the best and you will get the best. It sounds miraculous, but isn't at all. Think and live.

PELLETIER HURT;
BENTLEY DUE

Marcel Pelletier, goaltender for Victoria Cougars, may not be in uniform Tuesday night when Cougars meet Calgary Stampeders in the first game of the Western Hockey League semifinals.

Pelletier cut his foot in an accident in his home Sunday night and two stitches were needed to close the gash in the sole of his foot.

Cougars announced they have called for the WHL's stand-by goalie Bev Bentley of Saskatoon Quakers. Bentley is due to arrive early Tuesday morning.

LONDON, PARIS BACK RUSSIAN TALKS PLAN

WASHINGTON (UP)—Democrat senator, Walter F. George, today urged President Eisenhower to call a top-level conference with Russia as soon as the Paris pacts to re-arm West Germany are ratified. State Department unofficially welcomed the suggestion, and indicated it is "in line with Eisenhower administration thought." In Paris informed sources gave full approval "provided France is invited." London sources said Senator George's suggestion meshes perfectly with Churchill's ambition to end the "cold war" before he quits office.

300 Homeless In Quebec Fire

$700,000 Damage as 35 Buildings
Destroyed at Nicolet; No Deaths

By SHIRLEY MORRIS, Canadian Press Staff Writer

NICOLET, Que. (CP)—An early-morning fire, raging out of control for almost seven hours, today destroyed 35 buildings and caused $700,000 damage in this community 80 miles east of Montreal.

The damage estimate was made by Mayor Ubald Caron, an insurance broker.

He said 31 stores and 75 tenements, housing an estimated 300 persons, were destroyed by the fire that leaped from one building to another with lightning speed. Nine blocks in the central section of the town of 3,751 were destroyed.

There were no casualties. Mayor Caron attributed the lack of casualties to the fact that a fire truck with siren screaming roared through the fire area and the town until all houses were cleared.

BEGAN IN RESTAURANT

The fire started in a Panet Street restaurant owned by Albino Mathieu and quickly spread to three houses and then jumped to adjoining Notre Dame Street, the town's main thoroughfare. It whirled through blocks on both sides of Notre Dame Street.

Firemen pumped water from the nearby Nicolet River to quell the outbreak, one of the worst in the province since disastrous fires in Rimouski and Cabano in 1950.

The homeless were quickly offered shelter in neighboring religious institutions. Brother Arthur of Academie de Nicolet, a Christian Brothers school, invited all homeless to the institution.

The Hotel Dieu Hospital also threw open its doors and the Gala Theatre offered shelter to others.

Meanwhile, Red Cross units from Montreal and Quebec City began arriving to administer to an estimated 300 people who were made homeless by the blaze.

Many of the buildings destroyed housed businesses on the street level and dwellings upstairs.

CLIVED TO HELP

Fire brigades from the nearby municipalities of Drummondville and Pierreville were called in to help regular firemen whose ranks were swelled by all available able-bodied men.

At the height of the blaze flames shot more than 200 feet in the air and were visible by residents of Trois-Rivieres, Que., 15 miles away on the north shore of the St. Lawrence River.

There was no evidence of fire around the plane, which rested on its belly. The wings were ripped off and the engines lay about 300 yards to the rear of the fuselage.

A day-long rain had made the field muddy, hindering rescue operations. Ambulances and other rescue cars had to churn through mud to get close to the scene.

Some of the victims were carried a half-mile to ambulances.

Babcock Used Choir To Cover Jail Break

(CP and BUP Dispatches)

VANCOUVER—A police dragnet scoured the B.C. coast area today for a convicted bank robber, facing 20 years in prison and 21 lashes, who used a visiting church choir to cover his escape from Oakalla Prison Sunday afternoon.

William A. Babcock, 33, described by B.C. Court of Appeal as a "menace to society" was awaiting transfer to B.C. Penitentiary after his appeal had been denied.

(Victoria Police Chief John Blackstock said a close watch was being kept on the possibility of Babcock taking refuge here. John Bertelsen, who was given the same sentence as Babcock for the bank hold-up, is a former West Saanich resident who was sent to prison for the wounding of former city police constable Stanley Cornish in a stolen car shooting at Hillside and Shelbourne in July, 1946.

PROBE BY A.G.—Mainland reports that Attorney-General Robert Bonner would initiate a special investigation into the escape could not be confirmed at the Legislative Building today. Mr. Bonner conducted a probe after Clifford Dawley, also a former Vancouver Island resident, escaped from Oakalla. He still is sought).

RCMP and prison officials said Babcock, dressed in civilian clothing, evaded guards by mingling with a group of about 24 men and women who had been conducting a church service in the prison grounds.

Babcock and Bertelsen were sentenced Jan. 28 to 20 years in prison and 21 strokes of the paddle for the armed robbery of a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada here Jan. 14 in which three men escaped with $30,000. The three were captured later the same day and the loot recovered. The third man, John Waslychuck, still is awaiting trial.

RCMP and prison officials said Babcock, dressed in civilian clothing, evaded guards by mingling with a group of about 24 men and women who had been conducting a church service in the prison grounds.

46 CONVICTIONS

The sentence, stiffest bank robbery penalty in the history of the B.C. courts, was appealed by Babcock. In turning down the appeal, Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson said Babcock had "an amazing record of something like 46 convictions" and called him "a menace to society."

A prison official said Babcock was wearing civilian clothes because he was awaiting transfer to the B.C. penitentiary when he attended the church service.

He apparently mingled with the church choir as it left the building in which the service was held, slipping past guards stationed at the door.

As the choir moved on to a second building for another service, Babcock apparently made his way over the wall to freedom. He was missed a few minutes later when prisoners attending the first service were returned to their cells.

All off-duty prison guards were called in and police throughout the lower mainland notified immediately Babcock's escape became known.

A car crashed a roadblock on Pattullo Bridge at 2:30 a.m. today and eluded police and prison guards. However, police said they doubted whether Babcock was in the vehicle.

An RCMP tracking dog, flown from Vancouver Island, picked up a trail outside the prison walls and followed it across prison farm fields to a main highway, where the trail ended.

Near-Riot
At Vancouver
Girls' School

VANCOUVER (CP)—Six police cars were called to the Girls' Industrial School here Sunday night to quell a near-riot which is reported to have started after some of the girls drank lemon extract.

A few hours earlier, three girls escaped from school, and they are still at large. School officials have declined to release details of the disturbance which resulted in two calls for police help.

It took nearly an hour to bring the disturbance under control. Reporters outside the building heard screams from inside the building as police attempted to quell the disturbance.

One girl shouted from a window, "It all started with a bottle of lemon extract."

She said some of the girls drank the extract and then refused to go to bed.

CHURCHILL RETIREMENT
Rumors Gain Strength

Latest Talks Have British Prime Minister
Stepping Down at Easter; May Retain Seat

LONDON (AP)—Britons took it for granted today that Winston Churchill is stepping down as prime minister within weeks but no one expects him to go into retirement by the fireside.

Only the 80-year-old statesman's political enemies seemed to harbor any suspicions of the impetuous Churchill might change his mind at the last minute.

There was talk in parliamentary lobbies that Churchill will keep his seat in the House of Commons. This would give him a platform and an official status. He would always be available for an assignment as a special government emissary.

It was admittedly difficult to picture a British cabinet with Churchill as a subordinate minister. There are precedents, however, for former prime ministers doing this.

Neville Chamberlain did so for a few months in the Second World War. Lord Balfour did so in the First World War. Churchill is expected to hand over the leadership of the Conservative party—and with it the prime ministership—to Foreign Secretary Eden before Parliament recesses for Easter.

TIMES COMMENTS

The Times, an authoritative independent newspaper which seldom delves into political speculation, says: "It now seems increasingly likely that he (Churchill) will resign about Easter and that the Queen will then call upon the foreign secretary to form a government."

Speculation is already rife on the prospect of an early general election. Guesses for the date ranged between June and October. The Churchill Conservative government has until October 1956 to run but can call an election any time before then.

The 57-year-old Eden is laying the groundwork for the campaign ahead—going before the voters with a somewhat younger cabinet than under Churchill. There is a possibility Eden may hold the dual jobs of prime minister and foreign secretary for a short time.

Demand for Department Probe Follows Reports of Army Thefts

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—The federal government will be faced with a demand from the opposition that it launch a thorough investigation of the entire administration of the National Defense Department.

The demands will be made by opposition members in parliament as a result of the latest disclosures of pilfering from army stores in British Columbia. Suggestions will be made that the inquiry be conducted by a royal commission, or at least by a special committee of the Commons.

Maj. Gen. George R. Pearkes, VC, chief military critic for the Conservative party, has indicated he will ask Hon. R. O. Campney, minister of national defense, for details of the large-scale thefts reported at No. 11

Works Company of the Royal Canadian Engineers in Vancouver and near Chilliwack.

At the first opportunity, possibly when defense estimates are before the Commons, opposition MPs will renew their demand for a complete investigation of the works and other branches of the department.

Opposition members pressed for a full-scale inquiry into the defense department at the time of the Currie report disclosures in 1952-53. However, the government did not comply with that request. The Currie investigation was confined to the thefts from Petawawa military camp and covered only the army works branch.

IN PARLIAMENT

Pearson Plans Major Foreign Policy Speech In Commons This Week

(From CP and BUP Dispatches)

Canadian foreign policy in the light of latest international developments is expected to be outlined before Parliament this week, possibly Thursday, by External Affairs Minister Pearson.

Mr. Pearson will reply mainly to recent opposition questions relating to Canadian-United States relations in event of either country being involved in an all-out war and to the explosive Formosan situation.

His statement will launch a major debate on foreign policy, the second this session. The first took place in January when the House ratified the entry of a rearmament West Germany.

No New Government Policy

John Diefenbaker (PC-Prince Albert), foreign policy spokesman for the Conservatives, questioned Mr. Pearson in the Commons about his Toronto statement and Mr. Pearson replied he enunciated no new government policy in that speech. He repeated what he said at Toronto:

"Today, I think that the neutrality of either of us, Canada or the U.S., if the other were engaged in a major war in which its very existence were at stake, would be unthinkable. . . . Our position in this regard is something that we should never forget when we say, and correctly, that certain U.S. commitments, those, for instance, covering help to China, Korea, and the Chinese coastal islands, have not been accepted by us."

Settled by Negotiation

On Jan. 26 he told the House the government would like to see the explosive Formosa situation settled by international negotiation with the Chinese Nationalist stronghold neutralized.

A month later he said Canada has no commitments in the Far East outside its obligations under the United Nations charter. He reiterated that the Chinese off-shore islands are indisputably Chinese territory as distinct from the Nationalist strongholds of Formosa and the Pescadores.

On March 10 he was asked in the Commons by Mr. Diefenbaker for a statement of policy with respect to the Nationalist-held islands of Quemoy and Matsu, two of the islands off the China mainland.

Mr. Pearson said there have been no developments in the Far East which have altered

Canada's position that these islands form part of the Chinese mainland. At that time he said the UN Security Council had not dealt recently with the Formosan situation. However, efforts were being made through diplomatic channels to bring about a ceasefire.

He added: "These efforts, it seems to me, would have more chance, indeed probably it is essential if they are to have any chance of success—that force should not be used against the islands which my honorable friend Mr. Diefenbaker has mentioned and that force should not be used from those islands against the mainland."

At that time Mr. Pearson also said he will explain the government's Formosan policy in detail to the House during the foreign policy debate.

Social, Economic Plan Proposed

Stanley Knowles suggested today the government should launch a vast program of social and economic development of Canada as a prelude to her 100th birthday July 1, 1967.

The CCF member for Winnipeg North Centre made the proposal in a private members' resolution appearing on today's Commons order paper. Since the time for consideration of private resolutions is past, his suggestion won't get House consideration this session.

Mr. Knowles' resolution suggested setting up a "100th anniversary committee" composed of federal and provincial representatives to plan and press a vast program of housing, slum clearance, conservation, irrigation and power projects, highway construction, hospital building and assistance to municipal projects.

The resolution said the program should be launched now and be pursued year by year "so that on July 1, 1967, the people of Canada will be in a position to celebrate this nation's 100th birthday not only with fireworks and speeches but the achievement of a land of health and abundance for all our people."

Dulles Trapped On War Secrets

Caught in Middle of Tug-of-War Between GOP Politics, Diplomacy

By DONALD J. GONZALES

WASHINGTON (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was caught squarely today between Republican lawmakers demanding publication of more secrets on wartime conferences and foreign allies just as adamantly opposed.

NEWSPAPERMAN, author and politician, 49-year-old Frank Owen, who has been 20 years on London's Fleet Street, will address the Canadian Club here March 28. Mr. Owen has been a columnist on the London Daily Express, but recently had a falling-out with his employer, Lord Beaverbrook. He's a former editor of the London Daily Mail and The Evening Standard. He's making the Canadian speaking tour filling in between jobs.

Although Dulles is adept at placating opposing sides, he is sure to be in hot water regardless of whether he releases more secrets to the public eye or keeps them in cold storage, administration officials said.

If Dulles now decides to stall publication of the wartime conferences, he will hear plenty from Sen. Styles Bridges (R., N.H.) and other like-minded Republicans. Their argument has been that the Democrats gave away too much to the Russians at wartime meetings.

If Dulles meets demands of fellow Republicans, publication of other documents will infuriate the British and other free world allies.

About a year ago, the state department outlined an ambitious program to release the secrets of the wartime meetings. The schedule called for:

1. Publication by June 30 of this year of the 1945 Yalta conference (published last week); the 1945 Truman-Churchill-Attlee-Stalin meeting at Potsdam; and the allied meetings at Tehran.

2. Publication by June 30, 1956, of the 1943 Casablanca conference between Roosevelt and Churchill; 1943 and 1944 Quebec conferences between Roosevelt and Churchill.

3. Publication by June 30 of this year of the first volume of a mammoth series on American-Chinese relations.

Mr. Knowles, 70, lived at 2580 Penrhyn, Cadboro Bay.

Born in England, he spent 20 years in the Royal Bank of Canada, then transferred to Vancouver where he worked two years before coming here.

Surviving is his wife Hannah, two brothers and three sisters in England and a nephew in Lethbridge, Alta.

Funeral will be at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at Hayward's Funeral Home and burial at Royal Oak. Rev. William Hills will officiate.

At that time Mr. Pearson also said he will explain the government's Formosan policy in detail to the House during the foreign policy debate.

Troops Hurt In A-Blast Says Paper

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Six soldiers suffered serious eye injuries in an atomic explosion at Yucca Flats, Nev., two years ago and one officer was permanently blinded in his left eye, the Harrisburg Sunday Patriot-News says.

The newspaper quotes several army physicians in its story in which none of the soldiers who suffered "retinal burns" was identified. The paper says their names and case histories were considered classified information. The Patriot adds that the army has denied any injuries had resulted from the A-bomb tests.

The injuries were reported to have occurred "in the spring of 1953." There was a A-bomb test at Yucca Flats March 17 that year.

Speed, Endurance of Atomic Sub Amazes Congressmen During Trip

GROTON, Conn. (UP) — The joint congressional Atomic Energy Commission said today the "very high speeds and unlimited endurance" of the atomic-powered submarine Nautilus mark the beginning of a new approach to naval warfare.

The statement was issued after 13 members of the committee completed a 20-hour cruise aboard the Nautilus. They were the first laymen ever permitted aboard the craft.

"We are enthusiastic about her performance," the committee said. "We were impressed with the fundamental simplicity of controls of the nuclear reactor and with the very high speeds the Nautilus can maintain for unlimited time under sustained operating conditions."

"These very high speeds and unlimited endurance are possible only through the use of nuclear fuel. The Nautilus is the only submarine that can completely circle the globe at full speed submerged."

The success of the Nautilus, the committee said, "marks the beginning of a new approach to naval warfare, and indeed the ultimate replacement of conventional ships by one driven by atomic energy."

The Nautilus docked at the electric boat division of General Dynamics Corp., here at 8:30 a.m. The cruise, which took the congressmen to Long Island Sound and later into the Atlantic Ocean started early Sunday.

Two dives were made and the lawmakers looked the Nautilus over from stem to stern. In the dry understatement of one of her veteran crewmen, Chief Roy Inglis of Rushville, Ill., "the Nautilus is the coming thing," he said.

"It is not just the fact that the Nautilus is a comfortable submarine on which to live—comfortable beyond the hopes of any submariner. They are proud of the fact that on every test the Nautilus has met or exceeded specifications. Her speed, endurance, maneuverability, and livability are writing a new code of performance for the entire navy."

ENTHUSIASTIC CREW

"Of all the wonders of the Nautilus, however, none is more impressive than the enthusiasm of her crew. This skilled and dedicated group of officers and men displayed a high degree of confidence in their ship and in the advanced ideas embodied in her."

The cruise included both diving and surfacing operations. No actual tests were undertaken during the trip.

A submarine rescue vessel, the Tringa, stood close by the Nautilus throughout the cruise. Builders' trials of the submarine were scheduled to be continued today after the congressmen were back on shore.

So far, the Nautilus has been put through some 275 miles of tests and has traveled more than 1,000 miles under her own revolutionary power.

Bevan, Attlee Fight Stirs British Labor

Glasgow Conference Breaks Up In Protest Against Leadership

LONDON (AP)—The head of the Trades Union Congress, financial backbone of the Labor Party, spoke out Sunday in support of party moderates in their battle against leftist Aneurin Bevan.

Said TUC chairman Charles Bebbes: "I believe every man has the right to his conscience. But when personal conscience interferes with the good of the party, then personal conscience must give way to the party."

Labor gets its main finance from levies on the TUC's 8,000,000 members.

Geddes spoke at a meeting celebrating the centenary of Manchester Trades Council. He and other pro-moderate speakers frequently were interrupted by Bevan supporters.

BEVAN OUSTED

Bevan last week was ousted from the Labor caucus in the House of Commons for flouting party decisions. Next Wednesday party chieftains decide whether to expel him from the party altogether.

A Scottish regional Labor conference in Glasgow Sunday broke into uproar. Scores of pro-Bevan delegates, booed and drummed their feet in a demonstration against the party leadership. Dr. Edith Summerskill, the party's national chairman, had just told the meeting that majority decisions must be obeyed.

Delegates attempting to propose resolutions of support for Bevan but failed to get recognition from the chairman, George Willis, Labor MP. Other of Bevan's supporters stumped the country during the week-end campaigning against any further "punishment" for him.

Harold Wilson, cabinet minister in the former Labor government and close political associate of Bevan, said Saturday that to expel Bevan from Labor party membership would have disastrous effects on the party's cause.

Wilson told a political meeting at industrial Huyton "enough harm has been done" already by action against Bevan.

The Margate Labor party executive took the unusual step of calling all local parties in Britain to a special meeting May 15 to discuss tactics on the Bevan split.

GUIZADO ON TRIAL TODAY

PANAMA (UP)—Former president Jose Ramon Guizado goes on trial before the national assembly today on charges of plotting the machine gun murder of his predecessor, President Jose A. Remon.

Remon and three other persons were shot down and killed at Juan Franco race-track on Jan. 2 and Guizado stepped up from the vice-presidency to become president for only 13 days. The assembly action was taken on the basis of a confession by Ruben O. Miro, 41-year-old playboy lawyer, that he was the triggerman. He said then vice-president Guizado knew of the plot weeks before it was carried out.

Top British A-Scientist Warns World

LONDON (AP)—Prof. Frederick Soddy, one of Britain's first atomic scientists, said Sunday hydrogen bomb experimental explosions "are getting out of hand." The blasts, he said, "are fouling the air with radioactivity. It is nonsense to say it is harmless."

Soddy, who shared in basic discoveries of atomic science and won the Nobel Prize for chemistry in 1921, said in a Sunday Chronicle interview that radioactive gases can, and may, devastate the natural resources of the countryside and the mutation of genes in living people may be affected to the extent of jeopardizing the future fertility of the human race.

HELSENKI, Finland (UP)—

Red China has refused to send another tanker to pick up the Finnish vessel Aruba's disputed jet fuel cargo, informed shipping sources said today.

Peiping reacted "very negatively" to the proposal for fear that Chinese Nationalist warships already lying in wait for the Aruba would capture the relief vessel, these sources said.

The Aruba's crew in a new statement from the Finnish Seamen's Union stood by its refusal to sail any farther toward Red China than the Niohar Islands in the Bay of Bengal northwest of Singapore.

With the crew standing pat and the Communists refusing to come after the fuel, shipping sources said the Aruba probably would have to return to Red Rumania and hand back its cargo.

Gunnar Damstrom, president of the Re-Be Shipping Company which owns the Aruba, was not available for immediate comment on authoritative reports of Peiping's decision.

English Club Leads

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (Reuters)—The English touring cricket club should win again Tuesday when a current game against Wellington ends. The Wellington side, 127 and 37 for one wicket, were still 244 runs behind the Englishmen 207 and 201, after today's play.

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Tony Trabert of Cincinnati Sunday defeated his Davis Cup teammate, Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, to win the Everglades club tennis tournament 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3.

POLICE ON GUARD

Though Chief Minister Mohammed Ayub Khurro said in a statement that the alleged conspiracy was "well under control," heavy police guards ringed the parliament building today in Hyderabad, the provincial capital 90 miles northeast of Karachi. All other meetings of more than five persons were banned.

Pir Ellahi Baksh, former chief minister of the province, also was reported under arrest. Both he and Speaker Talpur are opponents of Khurro.

Ali Mohammed Rasbidi, one of Khurro's ministers, said the object of the alleged plot was "the assassination of the Sind ministers and the creation of wide disturbances between the people of one province and another in west Pakistan."

Later he added that the plotters sought to prevent implementation of land reforms recently introduced in the province.

Facts Behind the Facade

A SERIES OF WASHINGTON dispatches to The Christian Science Monitor from its distinguished correspondent, Mr. Joseph Harsch, attempts to analyze the actual movement of events this spring, behind the chaotic surface. The fundamental facts, Mr. Harsch believes, are quite different from and almost opposite to the superficial appearances.

The first fact, in his opinion, is the movement away from that stark polarization of power which marked the immediate postwar world. With the military war ended and the struggle for power known as the cold war begun, two nations, the United States and Russia, bestrode the globe like twin colossi, dwarfing and, between them, dominating all other states. That is no longer true; or at least not as true as it was a few years ago.

The United States must listen increasingly to Britain and the Commonwealth. (Sir Winston Churchill proposes to make sure of that by building the hydrogen bomb at home.) Russia finds that China is no longer an obedient satellite but a troublesome and perhaps dangerous ally of growing strength and alarming irresponsibility. Germany is rising as the strongest state of continental Europe. The United States is trying desperately to restore the military power of Japan. Both sides in the great struggle must take account of India, the fulcrum between them.

In short, depolarization is rapidly under way.

The second fact noted by Mr. Harsch is a corollary to the first but is little understood and generally disguised. It is that the United States certainly and Russia probably are seeking a disengagement of power.

There can be no doubt about the United States' will to disengagement, in which the crisis of Formosa is a kind of unavoidable aberration. All the original "dynamic" policies of the Eisenhower Government, the "roll back" of communist power, the "liberation" of Russian satellites—the attempt to repeal the communist revolution by force—have been quietly abandoned. While Chiang Kai-shek, for example, is to be defended in Formosa he has been forbidden to touch the Chinese mainland, unless of course, a great war breaks out in Asia.

In a highly significant and little noted speech the other day, Mr. Dulles exposed a hidden region of his thinking for the first time. He appealed to the "historic friendship" between the American and Russian peoples, and to patriotic men in the Kremlin who would put the welfare of their country ahead of their communist ideology. He added that "one can perceive the outlines of a basic policy difference in Russia." Mr. Dulles seems to think that, like the United States, Russia is anxious to temper the struggle and forestall the final chapter of nuclear war.

At all events, the United States, as Mr. Harsch says, is obviously operating on the assumption that there will be no such war in the visible future, even while it is preparing to resist local communist aggression in Asia.

The energies of the United States were concentrated for ten years on the accumulation of foreign power but today are concentrated, for the first time since the last war, on internal problems long overshadowed and neglected. Domestic instead of foreign affairs have become the core of American politics.

Why this clear change in the United States and the apparent change in Russia? Mr. Harsch answers that both now face the same sorts of problems internally, though in reverse.

Russia's basic planning, founded on a population which is still half agricultural, has gone awry—of this the continual upheavals in the Kremlin are the outward expression. A nation growing rapidly cannot produce enough food, apart from other consumer goods.

The United States, on the other hand, finds itself with a stubborn unemployment problem when it enjoys an almost record prosperity. It has the ability to produce far more of everything than it can presently use.

However economists may interpret these problems in economic and social terms, the cardinal fact, as Mr. Harsch says, is that both the colossi are increasingly concerned with their own affairs and relatively less with foreign affairs.

It is not safe, however, to project this logic very far—to assume that the tensions of the cold war will relax, even if both the chief protagonists desire a relaxation. For neither can be sure of managing events of this kind of world.

Perhaps the most terrifying single fact of our time, indeed, is that an irresponsible China, in the heady days of its revolution, can set Asia and the world on fire by misjudging American intentions as other aggressive powers have done before, with familiar results. Thus if Mr. Harsch is right about the hopeful fundamental facts, they are at the mercy of imperponderables, probably beyond the control of any single power, however great.

Under the Wrong Roof?

IN THE COURSE OF HIS SPEECH to the Legislature last session, British Columbia's minister of labor touched upon Indian affairs, a subject within the jurisdiction of his department.

Mr. Wicks paid tribute to both the department of health and welfare and the department of education for the close co-operation he had received from them. In fact, sections dealing with education and welfare were the principal constructive features of the Indian affairs review.

That is a natural situation arising from the Indian problem in this province. Health and welfare and education seem to be the most important elements to be considered in the treatment of natives and in any program aimed at improving their status as citizens.

Under the circumstances would not efficiency be served by transferring Indian affairs to a department responsible for these services?—Such a procedure would be in line with the recommendations of the select committee appointed by the Ontario legislature in 1953 to inquire into civil liberties and rights with respect to the Indian population of that province. The committee, whose report has recently been forwarded to this part of Canada, did an excellent job.

While the committee leaned on British Columbia experience to frame some of its recommendations, it recognized interests of Indians, namely: "That a suitable executive officer of Indian extraction be appointed to act as liaison officer in Indian affairs and that such appointment should come under either the minister of public welfare or the minister of education."

Ontario has learned something from British Columbia on the subject of Indian treatment. Conceivably British Columbia could learn something from Ontario in fitting the continuing committee into its proper place under a department more appropriate than labor.

Dogwood for an Emblem

INTERESTED GROUPS, IN THIS locality have renewed their commendable efforts to have the dogwood declared British Columbia's official floral emblem.

The case for that flower has been aided by its popularity here and on the lower mainland. Dogwood brooches and lapel decorations find a ready market, and when the province offered its gift to the present sovereign during her visit here as princess it took the form of jewelry patterned on the dogwood.

To become the official emblem, dogwood needs passage of a bill in the Legislature.

There is some opposition to the selection of that flower. It centres mainly on the fact that the trees are not generally located throughout the province. They appear only on the island and lower mainland.

It is difficult to fix distribution as the chief reason for the selection of an emblem. A rather well-known coat of arms, for instance, features a lion and a unicorn. Yet the lion is found only in the zoos of the country it represents and no one has seen a unicorn in its natural habitat lately.

Swept Under the Rug

MR. BENNETT'S GOVERNMENT, it appears, has every intention of sweeping the Social Credit convention charges of "wilful inefficiency on the part of some Government employees" under the rug.

On the final day of the last session Provincial Secretary Wesley Black answered questions on the issue raised by Victoria Liberal George Gregory.

A simple negative was given to the Liberal query if the Government has asked to be informed on the basis for the charge. Consequently the Government had no explanation for it.

Perhaps the issue can be swept under the rug. That treatment for a few more questions, though, and somebody will trip over extremely lumpy carpeting.

Making Up the Rules as They Go Along

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

CYRIL CONNOLLY was writing about murders in The Sunday Times (London). He said many things that are not said often enough. Such as the sad and rather surprising fact that most of our murders, even when they are Big News at the time, are not interesting in themselves. They are made interesting only by a wealth of details about human nature . . . and, of course, by suspense during the trial. If you reduce a murder case to its bare essentials it naturally becomes boring, but it is astonishing how very squalid and boring it becomes.

"We see but a procession of dim, subnormal, scruffy little people incompetently doing away with one another," he says. "Perhaps this is a good thing, for we are apt to make too great a cult of murder trials in this country; the cycle of gruesome crime and capital punishment plays an enormous role in our imagination."

You will here object, perhaps, that people get the sort of crime reporting they deserve. This is partly true. But I have yet to see anyone, even Mr. Connolly, suggest another part of the truth, which is this: the volume of reporting and its general tone can be dictated by public demand, but the reporter's appetite for the task in hand, and his skill, are not decided by the public at all. And it is his appetite and skill, surely, that decide whether we'll lap it up or just chew it distastefully.

ANYHOW, to return to Mr. Connolly, while retaining our interest in what the public deserves. He says "There is an average of three murders (he means known murders, naturally!) a week in this country, over the last fifty years, and this average is maintained irrespective of crime waves or alterations in the death penalty. (What alterations, in fifty years?) I think, too, that each nation gets the murders it deserves, and that where there are more political murders there are fewer sexual crimes or murders for gain; for instance, a certain kind of murder, often combining motives of sex and gain, and taking place in seedy bourgeois surroundings, is characteristic of England, France, Belgium, and the eastern United States, which are also the countries devoted to the detective story. One cannot imagine a Swiss Sherlock Holmes, a Swedish Bluebeard, or a Spanish Jack-the-Ripper."

ME, I think this a little far-fetched. A political murder may crowd a shabby affair off the front page, but I don't think it goes any deeper. I would like to see all the newspapers of the countries involved, and all the police files. Or rather, I'd hate to see them. But one would have to see them before accepting such theories. There is one thing I'd adore to see . . . I'd like to see the line up and down the central United States, west of which the public is less devoted to detective stories! A line shot by Mr. Connolly, I think.

Anyone who believes this sort of optimism is quite capable of believing that the Spaniards have now had so many political murders, they have ceased to enjoy watching horses being dismembered at bull-fights. Talk about Jack-the-Ripper!

IN FAIRNESS to Mr. Connolly, it should be noted that only a week earlier he was taking a crack at bull-fighting. He was, rather surprisingly, praising Mr. H. V. Morton's new book on Spain. One would not have imagined a sophisticated like Connolly enjoying an innocent like Morton . . . a highly popular innocent at that, and Mr. Connolly is apt to think that if a thing is popular enough we can assume it is no good . . . and often enough he is only too right.

He says that Mr. Morton's description of a bull-fight is patently lethal. In an age when it is bad taste to dislike bull-fights it is a great relief to come on such a denunciation. These cruelties, I feel, are inexcusable, and I am delighted at last to find someone who is not prepared to excuse them." He would have found the late E. V. Lucas right in there sticking up for the horses. It was fashionable even in Lucas's time to pretend the horses were a cheap price for all the drama and color and glory. (Glory be.)

ONE of the glories of the bull-fight, as Morton points out, is that "not every one knows that their (the horses') vocal cords are cut, because the scream of a horse is a sound that not even a bull-fight crowd would enjoy." How's that for luxury? If you have to have the horses at all, it is a good idea to have as much hypocrisy as possible.

But why are the horses there? No beauty or excitement or skill is involved at all. You could pep the poor bull up in other ways. If anyone wants brighter bull-fighting, I have a number of improvements to suggest. Far too many matadors survive. In fact, hardly any get killed. This makes for a very dull foregone conclusion. You know who's going to win. Either give the matador a smaller sword or let him fight leopards or really mean elephants. Take the sneer off his face, it would. Or he might find a good deal in common with a gorilla . . . intellectually.

ALSO, the spectators are behind barriers. This is a mistake. They are not getting their money's worth and neither is the bull. If ten or a dozen customers got gored at every fight, the element of suspense would be heightened, and the element of poetry would be in no wise impaired. On the contrary!

As Our Readers See It

DOUKHOBOR TROUBLE

Please allow space in reply to B. P. Johnson, Milnes Landing, re the Doukhobors.

These people were allowed into Canada and it was Queen Victoria who interceded for them through the federal government. They were granted one special privilege which none of us Canadians were allowed, namely they did not have to bear arms. Of course, by that they were not allowed to vote (fair enough).

This writer came to Manitoba in 1904, about five years or less after they arrived; later was in south Saskatchewan. Then went to Saskatoon. They had their nude parades in 1906-07-08-09 to my knowledge, but doing no one any harm. I also was in Grand Forks for a time in middle 20's—the damage they did amounting to thousands of dollars, to say nothing of the danger to human life.

The Doukhobor trouble is entirely the responsibility of the government that allowed them in here in the first place, namely, the federal government.

K. C.

CRITICISM

A leading financial paper editorially referred to the pressure being put on Ottawa to grant complete exemption from income tax of all medical expenses, and mentioned a labor group.

It stated there is now only partial exemption and everyone knows what would happen if this exemption were made complete. Hundreds of thousands of people who now look after their own minor aches and cuts would head for the nearest clinic if they got a cinder in their eye. And some of them would be out looking for cinders.

The writer may have had his wires crossed, but I'd like to point out that a wage-earner would be unlikely to incur unnecessary medical expense as the government would pay only 17 to 20 per cent of the cost through medical exemption, on incomes under $5,000. I shudder to think how this paper would react to a proposal for a tax-paid medical health plan as they have in Britain.

UP THE NAVY

It is said that the U.S. Navy can defend anything.

I would like to remind Canada and Great Britain that we also have a thing or two to defend.

Russia has been building up conventional military equipment yet Canada and Great Britain have been experimenting for a hydrogen age. We need action. And nowhere is more action needed than in the Canadian and British Navies.

Warships as well as merchant construction should and must be started at once. This work would help to relieve the unemployment problem. If the money can be created in wartime, why can it not be created in peacetime?

In 1949 Canada was contemplating the construction of seven fast modern destroyers. This figure was later raised to fourteen destroyers. Now I ask, with all the billions of dollars being spent on the Navy, how many of these fourteen destroyers are in service? Practically nothing larger than frigates are being constructed in either Navy; the speed of most of these ships is about 18 to 20 knots. How can they contend with ships of 30 knots? There is a lag somewhere and the lag can be put upon the Admiralty and their respective Governments. Great Britain and Canada are worth defending.

J. D. JOHNSON.

THANK YOU, DOCTOR

May I, through your paper, express my gratitude to Dr. Chisholm for his very timely article "Too Many Babies." Although his article will be greeted with horror in many circles, mainly for religious reasons, I believe that our salvation lies with men like this great humanitarian.

That the great problems of humanity can be solved through abstract speculation on a very dubious hereafter, is irrational and fatuous!

Our only hope is in the pursuit of knowledge, in the dedication of science to humanity, and in the practical application of the fundamental Christian principles, without all the frills.

"A SUBSCRIBER."

TWO DOLLAR WORDS

I am a humble citizen with only a high school education. I have no PhD. When I read your editor talking about how the Liberals should "concert" leadership and that the Conservatives almost have a "tropism" about unemployment, I am quite defeated. Help, please!

(Ed. Note: Tropism is the inherent tendency of a living thing to respond definitely to an external stimulus—i.e., to protest a strange word rather than check its meaning.)

"BAFFLED."

THAT COLLEGE 'INVASION'

I see that Victoria College behavior is under fire again, this time under the cloak of anonymity.

Would "Annoyed" care to swear that all of those people whose actions on the ship so upset him (or her) are students of the college? Would he care to name specifically any particular instance of tampering with the ship's safety devices, (which incidentally is a serious offense under the Canada Shipping Act)? Does it not seem also that he is impugning the ship's officers for failing to maintain good order on board?

I am speaking as one who did not go on this particular expedition to Vancouver on the Friday night, but I have no doubt that the College people were very much in evidence on this particular trip. However, the Friday midnight trip is now and has for some years been a "harrowing experience" for the "staid and unco gold."

I am moreover grieved to hear that certain aged people were unable to find accommodation on the night in question, but it must in fairness be pointed out that this is always a problem on week-ends, and any seasoned commuter—indeed any College boy—knows that the necessary reservations should be seen to at least one week in advance.

In short, Mr. Editor, the weekly roll-calls on the Friday midnight crossings to Vancouver are something up with which we have to put!

Will They Attack?

BY STEWART ALSOP, From Washington

AMERICAN policy in the present crisis over Formosa and the offshore islands has been much criticized as fuzzy and obscure. But it is not really so mysterious after all—except in one vitally important respect.

In the first place, there is not the slightest doubt about the real underlying objective of American policy in the Formosa area. The objective is a cease-fire in the Formosa Strait. No one imagines, least of all Secretary of State Dulles, that the Chinese Communists are going to sign a formal treaty abandoning their claims to Formosa. Such a treaty would hardly be worth much anyway. What is hoped for, instead, is a kind of de facto, informal understanding—a private deal, backed by force and realities of geography, and thus having some real meaning.

Secretary Dulles, when he met British Foreign Minister Sir Anthony Eden in Bangkok, made it perfectly clear that he would accept this sort of deal. He also made it clear, without spelling it out in so many words, that in order to get such a deal the United States is prepared to "persuade" Chiang Kai-shek to withdraw his forces from Quemoy and Matsu. But this cannot be done rudely or suddenly. A lull of several months is needed to make it possible to do the unpleasant job of persuasion gradually and with a saving of face all round.

The almost simultaneous speeches by Secretary Dulles and Foreign Minister Eden were thus two sides of the same coin. Neither was in the least surprised by what the other had to say. Indeed, the whole thing was something of a Tweedledee and Tweedledum act, with Tweedledee Eden offering the carrot to the Chinese donkey, while Tweedledum Dulles brandished the stick.

MUTUAL UNDERSTANDING
In his replies to questions after his statement to the House of Commons, Eden dropped the broadest possible hints that his carrot—the offshore islands in return for a de facto cease-fire in the Strait—was offered with the full approval of Secretary Dulles. But the Dulles stick was real too—also no one knows just what sort of stick it may turn out to be.

For if the Chinese Communists are unwise enough to attack the offshore islands in strength, the United States will support the Chinese Nationalist defenders, with air attacks on military positions on the Chinese mainland.

This much was decided in principle even before Secretary Dulles left for Asia. Thus repeated statements that "President Eisenhower will decide" are somewhat specious. They are partly designed to allow future freedom of action, but partly also to restrain some of the more impetuous spirits in the Pentagon and on Formosa.

It may be, of course, that if the Communists do launch an attack on the offshore islands, some excellent reason for backing down will be found. But at the moment it is the overwhelming majority view in the White House, the State Department, and the Pentagon that the U.S. cannot stand aside in case of an all-out Communist attack, without risking the rapid loss of all Asia.

What really is mysterious about American policy is thus whether we will defend the offshore island in case of Communist attack, and how we will defend the islands.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff believe unanimously that the islands can be held, if the United States is prepared to mount heavy air attacks on mainland military installations, using nuclear weapons if necessary. The planning in the Pentagon and on Formosa as well is on the basis that small atomic bombs will be used if needed.

But there has never been a formal decision on this point—the issue has never really been faced up to. This is the decision—and a nightmarish one—which is quite genuinely up to the President.

UNENVIABLE DECISION

The President naturally devoutly hopes that it will never be necessary to make this decision, and that some such tacit understanding as that described above can in the course of time be worked out.

Perhaps it will. But recently the British Ambassador in Peking, Sir Humphrey Trevelyan, visited the Chinese Communist Foreign Minister Chou En-lai to feel him out on the islands-for-peace deal. For his pains, Trevelyan was told flatly that the Chinese Communists meant to take not only Quemoy and Matsu but the Pescadores and Formosa—this year.

This is precisely what Chou En-lai has told Burmese Premier U Nu, and U Nu in his turn reported to Secretary Dulles when Dulles was in Rangoon. It is precisely what the Chinese Communists have been telling all comers, public and private.

The whole thing may be some curious, illogical Oriental bluff. It is faintly encouraging that Chinese Communist propaganda about retaking Formosa has slackened off in recent weeks. But it would surely be unwise to proceed on the assumption that the Communists are bluffing, or that the time of decision will never come.

My wife hasn't much respect for my knowledge of women's clothes, because she remembers that she once asked me what I would like her to wear for some special occasion, and I said I thought her black velvet dress, she always looked so nice in it. ## Toronto Symphony Stalwart, Lady Gooderham, Dies at 91

TORONTO (CP)—Lady Gooderham, 91, whose interest in welfare work, women's organizations and music benefited many Canadians, died in Toronto Friday.

Widow of the late Sir Albert Gooderham and mother of one of Toronto's oldest families, she had been in ill-health many years. She was an aunt by marriage of former state secretary Dean Acheson of the United States.

Lady Gooderham was actively interested in the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire and the Protestant Women's Federation, an organization she founded.

She and her husband equipped the Daughters of the Empire Hospital in London during the First World War. Later they founded the IODE Hospital for Convalescent Children in Toronto.

She also founded the Queen Alexandra Rose Day in Canada which raised large sums for children's institutions from the sale of roses.

Her connections with the Red Cross dated back to the South African War when she was on the women's committee.

Sir Albert Gooderham and Lady Gooderham were instrumental in the reformation and financial support of Toronto Symphony Orchestra in 1923, after it had been disbanded during the First World War. She served on the women's committee of the orchestra for many years.

Kidnapper of Baby Was Mother of 3 Boys

Texas Police Recover Infant Snatched From Hospital 29 Minutes After Birth

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—A woman charged with snatching a 29-minute-old infant from its hospital crib "wanted a baby girl worse than anything in the world," her father said. She has three sons.

Officers found the little girl Sunday in the Houston home of Mrs. Pauline Schulze, 30, a former nurse aide.

The child was sped by police, escorted ambulance 85 miles back to Beaumont and reunited with its mother before she knew it was kidnapped Saturday—while she was still in the labor room. The news had been kept from her.

Doctors said the baby was in good condition, except its navel was tied with a shoulder strap from a woman's slip.

Mrs. Schulze was charged with kidnapping, and jailed here. Officers said she kept screaming "it's my own baby."

They said she apparently had an overwhelming desire for a fourth child and claimed the baby was born to her at home.

Footprint records identified the child as the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wharton of Beaumont. Examinations of Mrs. Schulze confirmed she had not given birth recently, doctors said.

EVERYBODY IS HAPPY BUT GEORGE

ELBERTON, Ga. (UP)—George Thornton, 32, convicted burglar, began a six-months' jail term today with a provision that he be released each morning to go to work.

Circuit Judge Clark Edwards ordered Thornton to turn his pay cheque over to his wife and children and cautioned that one false move and he would be transferred to a work camp.

Five Religious Holidays Cancelled by Peron Decree

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—President Juan Peron crossed five religious dates off Argentina's list of national holidays by decree today.

He said the holidays were reduced because of the necessity of increasing the nation's production. But the decree coincided with renewed tension between the Peron regime and the Roman Catholic Church.

The holidays eliminated were Epiphany, January 6; Corpus Christi, which this year falls on June 9; Assumption day, August 15; All Saints Day, November 1; and Immaculate Conception Day, December 8. Christmas Day and Good Friday will continue to be observed as holidays.

Colorful Ceremony Witnessed by 300

Over 300 persons witnessed the installation of new officers of the Victoria Chapter of the Order of DeMolay at a colorful ceremony at the Knights of Pythias Hall Saturday.

The chapter, sponsored by the Victoria club of the Gizeh Shrine Temple, is composed of boys between the ages of 12 and 21.

Officers installed were: Ralph Phillips, master councillor; George Cummings, senior councillor; Joe Moore, junior councillor; and Carl Noel, treasurer.

The chapter presented a pin to Monte Exton, retiring master councillor.

A feature of the meeting was the "ceremony of the rose," which is intended to remind boys how much they owe their mothers. The ceremony was conducted by Gary Hammonds, chevalier, past master councillor, Point Grey Chapter.

This Message Inserted by the Victoria Daily Times

(Continued from Page 1.) this way and you are using one of the most powerful laws in this world, a law recognized alike by psychology and religion; namely, change your mental habits to belief instead of disbelief. Learn to expect, not to doubt. In so doing you bring everything into the realm of possibility.

POSSIBILITIES

This does not mean that simply by believing or by positive thinking you are going to get everything you want or think you want. But it does definitely mean that when you learn to believe and think with creative positiveness, that which has seemingly been impossible moves into the area of the possible. Every great thing at last becomes for you a possibility. Indeed, when you put your trust in God, He guides your mind so that you do not want things that are not good for you or that are inharmonious with His will.

So, to learn to believe is of primary importance. It is the basic factor of succeeding in any undertaking. When you expect the best, you release a magnetic force in your mind which by a law of attraction tends to bring the best to you. But if you expect the worst, you release from your mind the power of repulsion which tends to force the best from you. It is amazing how a sustained expectation of the best sets in motion forces which cause the best to materialize.

'HOLDOUTS'

A famous Canadian athletic coach, Ace Percival, says that most people, athletes as well as non-athletes, are "holdouts," that is to say, they are always keeping something in reserve. They do not invest themselves 100 percent in competition. Because of that fact they never achieve the highest of which they are capable.

Red Barber, famous baseball announcer, told me that he had known few athletes who completely gave themselves.

Don't be a "holdout." Go all out. Do this, and life will not hold out on you.

A famous trapeze artist was instructing his students how to perform on the high trapeze bar. Finally, having given full explanations and instruction in this skill, he told them to demonstrate their ability.

FOLLOW HEART

One student, looking up at the insecure perch upon which he must perform, was suddenly filled with fear. He froze completely. He had a terrifying vision of himself falling to the ground. He couldn't move a muscle, so deep was his fright. "I can't do it! I can't do it!" he gasped.

The instructor put his arm around the boy's shoulder and said, "Son, you can do it, and I will tell you how." Then he made a statement which is of inestimable importance. It is one of the wisest remarks I have ever heard. He said, "Throw your heart over the bar and your body will follow."

Copy that one sentence. Write it on a card and put it in your pocket. Place it under the glass on your desk top. Tack it up on your wall. Better still, write it on your mind, you who really want to do something with life. It's packed with power, that sentence. "Throw your heart over the bar and your body will follow."

Heart is the symbol of creative activity. Fire the heart with where you want to go and what you want to be. Get it so deeply fixed in your unconscious that you will not take no for an answer, then your entire personality will follow where your heart leads. "Throw your heart over the bar" means throw your faith over your difficulty. In other words, throw the spiritual essence of you over the bar and your material self will follow in the victory groove thus pioneered by your faith-inspired mind. Expect the best, not the worst, and you will attain your heart's desire. It is what is in the heart of you, either good or bad, strong or weak, that finally comes to you.

GIBSON POSITION 'RIDICULOUS'

Lillooet CCF Candidate Will Contest By-Election

LILLOOET (CP)—The Lillooet CCF association voted Saturday to enter a candidate in the by-election to fill the seat left vacant by the resignation of Liberal Gordon Gibson.

The CCF is the first party to decide officially to contest the by-election, although it is assumed it will be at least a three-way race with the Liberals and Social Credit.

Mr. Gibson, who resigned his seat to back up charges against the government's forest management policies, announced he will seek re-election.

Tony Gargrave (CCF member for Mackenzie) told the meeting here that Mr. Gibson resigned his seat to cover up his "ridiculous position."

"Mr. Gibson was not prevented from appearing before Judge Lord's commission of enquiry," he said. He stayed away because he could not justify his statements.

"Mr. Gibson's refusal to appear before Judge Lord was an ancient privilege to protect his person as an MLA. It need not have prevented the presentation of facts by his lawyers or friends.

"I am afraid Mr. Gibson talked and leaped before he thought and had to eat his own words. By resigning his seat he is hoping to start a circus in this constituency to boost

Scots In Cup Final

Wright Scores Twice; Meet Esquimalt Next

Canadian Scottish, only a fourth-place team in the second division of the Victoria and District Football Association, continued their surprising cup play domination Sunday.

The spirited Scots gained the Jackson Cup semifinal Sunday at Heywood Park by defeating Wood Motors, 2-1, in the cup semifinal.

Scottish now advance against Esquimalt of the first division in the cup final next week-end. Veteran rookie Wright was the hero for Scottish Sunday, scoring both of their goals. The lone Wood Motors goal was accidentally knocked into the nets by a Scot defender.

In another Sunday game, Duncan Native Sons stretched their second division lead to six points by blanking Tilluums, 2-0, at Reynolds Road.

In first division league play Saturday, Victoria West scored its second victory in 18 starts by belting third-place JBAA, 4-2. The high-flying Heaneys club, which hadn't lost since early in November, went down to their third loss in 18 starts when they were defeated, 2-1, by second-place Esquimalt.

STEWART GETS TWO

Alec Stewart put an end to the winning ways of the first-place Heaneys club, scoring both goals for Esquimalt. Stewart opened the scoring after five minutes, saw Nelson Christie tie it with Heaneys' lone goal, and then booted home the winner with 10 minutes left in the second half.

West's scramble from behind a 1-0 deficit at half-time and turned on a furious second half offensive to score their victory over JBAA.

Tommy White put JBAA into a first-half, 1-0 lead but Red Turner, Chuck Forrester and George Brown clicked in rapid succession for Wests to make it 3-1 in the second half. Don McGee got JBAA's second goal but Brown scored his second to put the decision out of reach.

LATE BASKET WINS

Leafs Tie Provincial Cage Final

ALBERNI (CP)—A field goal in the last 10 seconds by lanky Bob Pickel Saturday night gave Vancouver Clover Leafs a tight 58-57 win over Alberni Athletics and evened up the best-of-seven series for the B.C. senior men's basketball finals at two games each.

The fifth game of the series will be played here tonight, and the sixth in Vancouver next Friday.

Athletics led 57-54 with 30 seconds to go, but Reid Mitchell's first basket of the game and Pickel's score turned the tables. Clover Leafs—Stuart 6, Watt 2, Burtwell 12, Mitchell 2, Craig 4, Pickel 19, Jim Mulhern 1, Gaston 12, L. Mulhern—58.

Alberni—Bissett 20, Brinham 10, Speidel 16, Samarin 3, Brown 2, Kootneff 4, Kermeide 2, John Groholski—57.

Alberni Defeated In Cage Final

The British Columbia high school basketball championship final was taken at Vancouver Saturday by Trapp Tech who defeated Alberni High School Chieftains 46-37 at UBC gym.

The Chieftains, who lost out in their bid to bring the Island its first provincial championship, placed second in the four-day event.

Victoria High Totems made it three straight victories in consolation play by defeating Peacock 34-28. The Totems were eliminated from championship competition by losing 35-30 to Delta in the opening game.

Vic High placed fifth in the tournament.

On Friday Esquimalt was eliminated by suffering its second defeat in the 10th annual event.

Line-ups follow:
Trapp Tech—Ron McComb 11, Mike Gerardo, Dick Gillespie 8, George Shuuff 2, Bob Vermette, Glen Spencer, Don Kerpel 4, Mike Vasey, Jack Nicholson 1, George Groulx 8.
Alberni—Dave Price 7, Ray Chelloux 10, Bert Ward, Ron Harcus 1, Mike Kinkovic 4, Garry Faison 4, Bill Andrews 4, Ian McLean, John Vikstrom 4, Norm Bailey, Don Schick, Bob Pennington.

Smith, Lesser Gain North-South Finals

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Wiffi Smith, 18-year-old La Canada, Calif., redhead, birdied the first four holes of the back nine Sunday to trounce U.S. amateur champion Barbara Romack 6 and 5 to gain the finals of the north and south United States amateur golf tournament. Wiffi will meet Pat Lesser of Seattle, 2 and 1 winner over Mary Ann Downey, in today's 18-hole final.

Victoria's New 'Mr. Rugby'

Oak Bay Wanderers' coach, Dick Ellis, received city rugby's top honor Saturday when he was presented with the John Rowland Memorial Trophy at half-time of the exhibition match between Oxford-Cambridge and Victoria Crimston Tide. The trophy, presented by the Victoria Daily Times to the person selected as having made the greatest contribution to rugby for the year, was given to Ellis by Times' managing editor, Les Fox. Ellis has an unsurpassed record as a player, coach, executive member of the Victoria Rugby Union and helped to start mid-gut rugby in the city. (Times Photo.)

Crimson Tide Ruggers Earn Praise in Defeat

Oxford-Cambridge 21, Victoria 8

By DENNY BOYD

An exceptionally spirited Victoria Crimston Tide team was paid a fine compliment by a member of an exceptionally talented Oxford-Cambridge rugby team Saturday.

After the touring club had beaten the city rep team, 21-8, Dick Umbers, capable scrum-half of the Old Country team, was asked his opinion of coach Doug Bray's Tide team.

Wiping a film of sweat off his face, Umbers said with conviction, "They're a fit bunch. For a while I thought they were going to kick us half-way back to England."

Umbers may have been a little generous with his praise, but there was little doubt in the

All 'Twas Said of Them

The Oxford-Cambridge team made few mistakes, never lost their poise and showed devastating speed on the wings when presented with scoring opportunities. The deft, snappy passing of Umbers repeatedly shook loose a clean-passing three-line and Umbers' punting, being a converted fullback, Dennis Robinson lived up to every word of his place-kicking reputation and finished the day with a 12-point contribution to his team's attack, three converts and two penalty kicks.

The visitors probably gave more entertainment than other visiting team of the past few years because of their exciting, free-wheeling style of play. Every member of Bray's team played up to standard and some outdid themselves. Aggressive Paul Beck was as good as any forward on the field; Rafael Duke showed flashes of his dazzling speed and scrum-half Gary Webster kept the Tide's three well supplied with crisp passes, in addition to scoring a try. Fullback Gary Pynn, while his place-kicking was not up to its usual standard, played a daring and effective defensive game.

Again, Pynn's convert was just wide, making it 10-3.

Robinson booted two penalty kicks, from 23 and 25 yards out to make it 16-3 before Tide scored again, Jerry Sylvester finishing off a movement started by the speedy Duke. This time, Pynn was dead on with his convert.

Final try of the game was a pretty play, Bagaley streaking over the line after taking Henry Morgan's pass on the right side. Robinson toed the ball through the posts for his third straight convert.

The first half ended 5-0 as Pynn was just inches wide of the posts on an attempted 28-yard penalty kick.

Oxford-Cambridge began to roll in the second half, hook Roy Allaway following up to ground a ball that had been dribbled to the line by John Bagaley. Tide got its first try soon after, Webster slipping over the line around the blind side after a five-yard scrum.

Colwood may have the six best male golfers in town; but they haven't yet proved it.

The challenge thrown out a few months ago bounced at Colwood Club Sunday as a select team of other top-flight city golfers defeated Colwood's best, 14½ to 12½ in an inter-team match.

"The rest" won the match by taking the Scotch four-somes, 5½ to 3½, and breaking even 9-9 in the singles. All matches were decided on a three-point basis—one point for each nine and one point for the match.

John Merriman and Dr. George Bigelow mainly accounted for the winning margin.

Paired together in the four-somes (alternate shots) they defeated Harold Lineham and Vic Painter, 2½-½. Merriman in the singles after trailing at the turn, while Bigelow took three points from Vic Painter who played despite suffering from a mild attack of influenza the previous evening.

George Andrews was the big pointmaker for Colwood. He and Bill McColl paired up to defeat Frank Scroggs and Eric Hiberson in the four-somes, three points to nil. Then in the afternoon Andrews dropped a long putt on 18 to defeat Scroggs by a margin of 2½-½.

Professional Bill Court pulled the biggest surprise of the day by defeating Pacific Northwest champion Bob Fleming, 2½ to ½ in the singles. Court, two up at the turn, needed a four-foot putt on 18 for victory and he got it.

In other four-somes play Fleming and Hugh Morrison took three points from Court and Laurie Kerr.

Other singles results had Eric Hiberson defeating Bill McColl, 3 and 1, for a three-point triumph; and Kerr taking the measure of Hugh Morrisson, 5 and 4, and also a three-point sweep.

Detailed results follow:

FOUR-SOMES
Andrews-McColl (Col.) vs. Scroggs-Hiberson (Rest), 3-0; Merriman-Bigelow (Rest) vs. Lineham-Painter (Col.), 3½-½; Fleming-Morrison (Rest) vs. Court-Kerr (Col.), 3-0.

SINGLES
Andrews (Col.) vs. Scroggs (Rest), 1 up (5½-½); Hiberson (Rest) vs. McColl (Col.), 3 and 1 (5-0); Merriman (Rest) vs. Lineham (Col.), 4 and 3 (5-1); Bigelow (Rest) vs. Painter (Col.), 4 and 3 (5-0); Court (Col.) vs. Fleming (Rest), 3 up (2½-½); Kerr (Col.) vs. Morrison (Rest), 5 and 4 (5-0).

Non-playing Captain Bob Morrison of "the rest" announced following the match his team would return the compliment and challenge Colwood to a future match on one of the other city courses.

However, it isn't likely that the return bout will be scheduled until later this summer as the tournament parade opens next Sunday, March 27, with the qualifying round of the Times Island Open scheduled at Victoria Golf Club.

Cougars Meet Stamps; 'Up to Players'—Reay

Opening Semifinal Game Scheduled Here Tuesday

By BILL WALKER

"It's up to the players." With these few words coach Billy Reay of the Victoria Cougars summed up his feelings on the forthcoming Western Hockey League semifinal playoff series with Calgary Stampede, opening here Tuesday night.

Reay did indicate also how, ever, that he personally feels that this year's club is much stronger and has a much better chance than last year's team which lost to the Stampede in the opening round of the playoffs.

"We are better in the nets," he said of goalie Marcel Pelletier who barely lost out to Vancouver's John Bower for the top goaling honor in the league.

"And we are in better physical condition," he said of the club which this year has no serious injuries entering the first game of the best-of-seven set.

Only near casualty, if he can be called that, is left winger Colin Kilburn, the club captain, who is still favoring an injured shoulder suffered in Vancouver Tuesday night. Kilburn aggravated the injury slightly in the 9-7 triumph over New Westminster Saturday night, but the consequences are not expected to be serious.

That particular contest at Westminster was a "no-matter" game after the second period with the score tied 3-3; the announcement that Calgary had defeated Edmonton, 5-2, killing any hope the Royals had of making the playoffs.

The Cougars hold a season's edge over the Stamps and, on that record, must be favored slightly over the defending league champs and Edinburgh Trophy holders.

But Reay discounts that by pointing to the Calgary line-up which features a number of veteran players, and a type of performer usually at best in a playoff competition.

"I'm not predicting anything," he said. "Calgary has a strong club and it will be a tough series. I expect that."

Cougars Hold Season's Edge

In regular season play the Cougars defeated the Stamps six times in 10 meetings tied two. Four of the victories were scored at Victoria as against one loss to the cowboys here; while at Calgary the Cougars won two and lost three.

The situation is reversed this year in that last year when the Stamps won the series from the Cougars, four games to one, the Stamps were the second-place finishers and had the benefit of a home-ice advantage for the series beginning.

Second game of the series will be played here Thursday night. If the teams split the first two games, third game of the series will be scheduled here Saturday, with the fourth game at Calgary Tuesday. If either club wins both games, the third game of the series will not be scheduled at Calgary until Monday, as the Calgary 8-30.

Cougar club general manager Fred Hutchinson has announced that there are seats still available for the opening game between Cougars and Stampede. Game time Tuesday night is 8:30.

Junior Hockey Match Ends in Wild Brawl

TORONTO (CP)—St. Catharines Teepees defeated Toronto Marlboros 3-0 here Sunday in a hockey game that was thrown into a turmoil when the players of both teams swarmed on the ice to take part in a brawl during the last two minutes of play.

The victory knotted the best-of-seven Ontario Hockey Association Junior A final 1-1.

The donnybrook, which exploded with only one minute and 27 seconds left in the game resulted in 29 five-minute major penalties and 23 10-minute misconducts.

Every player on the ice or the bench at the time, with the exception of the two goalkeepers, was given a major penalty. In addition, every player who came off the players' bench to take part in the fray, was tagged with a misconduct.

The star of the game was netminder Dennis Riggins of the Teepees, playing with his fourth OHA Junior A team this season.

The third-period ruckus started in a scramble around the St. Catharines goal when Gary Aldcorn, Marlboros forward, was cut behind the ear by a skate. Marlboros claimed a Teepee player kicked Aldcorn.

Royals Trounce City To Share Soccer Lead

A weak local defensive display and an opportunistic performance by the Royals enabled New Westminster to down Victoria City Coast Soccer League club 4-1 at Athletic Park Sunday.

In Vancouver North Shore United defeated Firefighters, 2-1.

Saturday's winners and Victoria are now tied for first place. However, the City team has played an extra game.

Harry Carruthers, with the help of Ab Travis and Ken Hilbert, booted City into a 1-0 lead early in the first half on a brilliant play.

City goalie Pete Winter did a fine job in the nets but seemed to lose control in the second half. Harry Price, catching Winter off guard, scored the tying marker for the Royals.

After 25 minutes of play in the second half John Pickburn cleared the ball back to his goalie but Winter lost control as an opposing player rushed in. The ball rolled through Winter's hands to put Royals in the lead.

Paul Fabris made it 3-1 for the Royals on a penalty kick.

GORGE VALE GOLF
Mrs. Lloyd Cann and Dorothy Herbertson teamed up to win the Wenger Basket Sunday at Gorge Vale Golf Club, scoring a net 81.

Ivan Carr scored the clincher on a short pass from Price in the game's waning moments.

City changed their forward line-up many times during the second half but with no successful results.

In Vancouver Keith Miles scored both goals for North Shore, one on a penalty kick. Dave Sullivan booted the Firefighters' lone tally.

New Westminster—Bissett, Stanley, Cairns, Durand, Sawyer, Hilop, Fabris, Howard, Henderson, Price, Carr, Bousquet, Campbell, Les Hibbert, Santaga, Victoria City—Winters, Hope, Ramford, McLaren, Pickburn, Hilbert, Robb, Carruthers, Ken Hibbert, Wright, Travis, Soares, Crabbe, Copp.

FOREMAN SCORES UPSET TO WIN SPRINT TITLE

HAMILTON, Ont. (BUP)—A former Toronto runner returned to Notre Dame University today with the Canadian 60-yard dash championship.

Joseph Foreman, a member of the B.E.G. team, overtook favored Edgar Brabham, of Michigan State, in the final 10 yards to win the championship Saturday at the 30th annual meet of the 91st Highlanders Athletic Association.

Foreman set a time of 6.2 seconds. Brabham, the Big-Ten 60-yard dash champion, had been expected to win the final easily.

WINGS TAKE NHL TITLE

Terry, Bernie Top Honor List

By The Canadian Press
The dramatic race for National Hockey League awards is over. It took the last engagement of a gruelling 70-game schedule to decide everything.

Terry Sawchuk of Detroit Red Wings had to come up with a great performance in goal on the windup night to claim the Vezina trophy and $1,000 prize money.

Bernie "Boom Boom" Geoffrion of Montreal Canadiens had to blast into the scoring leadership on the final weekend to capture the individual scoring crown by knockout teammate Maurice Richard.

And the Red Wings, defending a record unmatched in the game, were forced to snatch a victory in the last engagement for their seventh straight league championship.

It all happened during the week-end, a couple of days before the start of the Stanley Cup playoffs. They begin Tuesday with Toronto Maple Leafs meeting the Wings in Detroit and Canadiens being at home to Boston Bruins.

Sawchuk, a star since he hit professional hockey nine seasons ago, won the Vezina, the greatest honor for goaltenders, when he shut out Canadiens 6-0 in Detroit Sunday night.

It came while Harry Lumley, the 1954 winner, was allowing three goals as Toronto dropped a 3-2 decision to New York Rangers.

MISSED 134 SHOTS
Terry, a five-foot-seven native of Winnipeg, finished with an average of 1.91 goals a game. The Wings were scored on 134 times during the season. Lumley had a 1.92 average. There were 135 goals against Leafs.

Geoffrion produced a goal and two assists in Canadiens' 4-2 win over Rangers in Montreal Saturday to move into the scoring leadership. He ended up with 75 points—38 goals and 37 assists. Richard, suspended Wednesday for smacking a player and a linesman, was second with 74. Montreal's Jean Beliveau came next with 73.

Cougar scoring follows:

FIRST BURIAL 85 YEARS AGO

Clearing Campaign Under Way In Maple Bay Church Cemetery

DUNCAN—Close to 35 men spent a large part of Saturday clearing and tidying up the old Maple Bay United Church cemetery near Herd Road, about two miles from Maple Bay. In the party were 18 members of the Duncan AOTS Club, about eight members of Duncan branch of the Native Sons of B.C., and relatives of persons buried in the cemetery. The group felled several trees with a power saw, and will use

Plywood Plant Dispute Ended In Pt. Alberni

Union, Company Reach Agreement; Newspaper Strike Also Settled

PORT ALBERNI (CP)—Employees of the MacMillan and Bloedel Ltd. plywood plant returned to work Sunday midnight after the company closed down the plant following a dispute with union members Friday.

The dispute arose when members of the International Woodworkers of America CIO-CCL refused to remove a notice on the plant bulletin board declaring products of the West Coast Advocate newspaper as "hot."

The newspaper and printers of the International Typographical Union, who had been striking for about two months, reached an agreement Saturday with what ITU officials called the signing of a "contract for a full union shop."

Mill officials said the work stoppage had resulted from the refusal of the union to allow employees to use prescribed record forms in the production department of the mill.

"The union's statement that the closing of the plant constituted a lockout has been judged completely ridiculous," they said.

"No other course" "When local union officials failed to withdraw their prohibition of the use of these forms, management could take no other course than to close the plant," said an official company statement.

A demand by the union that the company pay employees for time lost due to the shutdown will be placed before an arbitration board of union, management and Forest Industrial Relations members.

A joint statement by union and management said there would be "no discrimination against anyone" over the incident.

Assurance satisfactory to the company were received from the union that the membership had been instructed to use all record forms as prescribed by the company.

Sidney Group Stages Bach Choral Work

A capacity audience at St. Luke's Parish Hall enjoyed a performance of Bach's "Peasant Cantata," staged by Sidney and North Saanich Musical Society.

Members were assisted by John Bray and Amy Walton. The lively cantata was conducted by Eric V. Edwards and was accompanied throughout by Muriel Filby, pianist, and Grace Beswick, violinist.

The guest artists performed several extra numbers, including John Bray's singing of "Ships That Pass in the Night" and the playing of Massenet's "Meditation From Thaïs" by Grace Beswick.

Donna Moody, young Brentwood contralto, sang a group of Irish melodies, and Don Mulcahy sang a bass solo.

The society will present the cantata at another concert at St. Alban's Church in mid-April.

Chemainus Boiler Repairs Begun

CHEMAINUS — Answering complaints about the recent increase in black smoke and fly ash from their smokestack, officials of MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd., Chemainus Division, stated it was due to brick repairs being carried out on the mill's four Wickes boilers.

Work started early this month and while repairs are being carried out the planer mill is operating on power supplied by the B.C. Power Commission. The remaining three boilers in the plant are being forced to carry the balance of the load. Work is expected to be completed by the end of May.

Tour of Britain Chemainus AOTS Lecture Subject

CHEMAINUS—Guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Chemainus AOTS Club was G. W. Owens, Mesachie Lake, secretary of the Duncan club, who spoke on a trip he made last year to Britain.

Of more than passing interest were his observations on the use of B.C. lumber products in England. Mr. Owens was thanked by Manfred Samuelson and Ernie Jackson, club president. Other Duncan visitors included Carman Chase and Frank Aldersey.

SINGLE DEFEAT

Normal Repulses Mainland 'Invasion'

By LILLIAN MACKAY
Times Normal School
Correspondent

The "invasion" has been repulsed.

Victoria Normal School defeated their Vancouver colleagues on the week-end in table tennis, basketball, soccer, bowling and volley ball, but yielded to the visitors in a hard-fought badminton tournament.

However, both victory and defeat were subordinate to the spirit of comradeship engendered by a common purpose. This comradeship was the keynote of the entire program.

As the visiting teachers disembarked Friday afternoon they were given a rousing welcome by many Victorians, who appeared in interesting and astonishing costumes. Both groups, led by smartly-uniformed cheerleaders, gave demonstrations of energy and mutual esteem before their caravan of gaily decorated cars left for the Normal School.

After a brief assembly, the table-tennis tournament opened the program of sports events. Friday evening both men's and women's basketball games were played at Victoria High School. Soccer, bowling, volleyball and badminton were scheduled for Saturday.

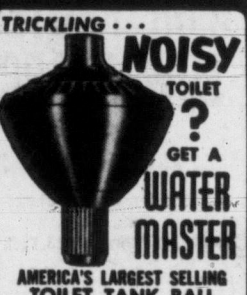

Saturday evening the visiting teams were entertained at a banquet in the Normal School Cafeteria. Later all student-teachers gathered in the auditorium to view an excellent demonstration of Indian club swinging and several skits of special interest. The many witty references to incidents of teacher-training brought chuckles from visiting and local teachers alike. After a short sing-song, informal groups met for discussion. Square-dancing and ballroom dancing brought to a close this most successful "invasion" program.

French Premier, Tax-War Leader Near Showdown

PARIS (UP)—Pierre Poujade, leader of France's nation-wide tax rebellion, called a press conference today to expound on his strategy for bringing down the government of Premier Edgar Faure.

Faure received powerful support from the French labor unions in his battle with the cocky anti-tax leader and succeeded in getting the National Assembly to approve France's 1955 budget nearly three months later.

Poujade was furious with the deputies for voting for Faure and ordered a nation-wide strike of shopkeepers next Monday.

Faure runs head-on into Poujade on Thursday with Poujade vowing revenge and determined to bring down the government.

France's most powerful non-Communist unions said they would take drastic action to undercut the shopkeepers who support Poujade and would call for several measures to outmanoeuvre Poujade—publication of tax rolls which are normally secret and opening of a number of "factory-to-you" stores to by-pass the pro-Poujade retailers.

Ike Aide Sees Communist Plot Based on Matusow's Lying

BOSTON, Mass. (UP)—Harvey Matusow has become the focal point of a Communist plot to destroy the government's confidential informant system, Attorney-General Herbert Brownell, Jr., told the chamber of commerce here today.

It was the first time Brownell had publicly expressed his belief that Matusow, a turn-about witness in two trials and before the subversive activities control board. He now says he lied in those proceedings when he named various persons as Communists.

Matusow appeared as a government witness in two trials and before the subversive activities control board. He now says he lied in those proceedings when he named various persons as Communists.

"It is becoming increasingly clear that the current violent attacks against government witnesses and against the FBI's confidential sources of information have many of its roots in a Communist effort to stem the campaign against subversion," Brownell said in his prepared speech.

City Yachtsmen Win Two-Day Race Meet

47 Victoria, Vancouver Sailboats In Feature Winter Frostbite Event

Victoria winter sailors took two team trophies to Vancouver's one in the second inter-city frostbite series, run off at Cadboro Bay Saturday and Sunday.

The Royal Victoria Yacht Club Davidson trophy, 950 points to 740. The Royal Vancouver Yacht Club's Sabot racers—unbeatable so far this season—racked up 237 points against Victoria's 151.

The Victoria squadron of the Royal Canadian Naval Sailing Association, sailing service dinghies, defeated their Vancouver RCNSA rival 84 points to 52.

On Saturday, Ace Lindsay of Victoria, won the F. W. Francis perpetual trophy in the Davidson's open race, with Bunny coast.

SPRING HAS SPRUNG—A LEAK?

Spring squished into Victoria at 1:36 a.m. today, wearing a raincoat and rubbers, and will keep them on, at least through Tuesday.

Weatherman William Mackie said today's rainfall would give way to showers overnight and again Tuesday. He expects the sun to make a valiant try Tuesday to peek through low-lying clouds.

Young Driver Rescued After Bridge Plunge

Trapped When Car Overturns

A young Saanichton man was rescued from his partly-submerged car Saturday night after it crashed through a bridge railing and plunged 25 to 30 feet into about three feet of water, landing upside down.

Erwin Robinson, 21, suffered head injuries, broken leg, possible dislocated shoulder and shock. He was reported in "fairly good" condition today at Rest Haven Hospital at Sidney.

The accident occurred about 11:30 p.m. at Shady Creek on the East Saanich Indian Reserve.

A member of the reserve, George Underwood, heard the crash and ran to the scene.

He was unable to release the trapped man and called Central Saanich police Chief Fred Brownlee.

They worked for about 30 minutes up to their knees in water with another member of the reserve, Vincent Thomas, to free Robinson.

The car was lying on its top in the water with the tide from Saanichton Bay steadily backing up the creek waters.

Chief Brownlee today praised the work of the two Indians.

The chief said the car hit the south side of a bridge at Shady Creek and then swerved and went through the north side into the water.

He said the injured man's legs were entangled in the steering column.

Robinson was unconscious when pulled from the wreckage. Underwood applied first aid and the injured man was rushed to Rest Haven.

He was to undergo surgery today.

The car was termed a total loss.

Saanich Planners Approve Lake Hill Sub-Station Plan

Ask Close Co-Operation On Selecting Line Route

Saanich Town Planning Commission has approved the construction of a $1,000,000 B.C. Electric Co. power sub-station, on a site located off the old CNR right-of-way, near Borden Street in Lake Hill district, it was learned today.

The commission's approval is embodied in a report on the controversial power project to be submitted to Saanich Council at the Royal Oak Municipal Hall tonight at 8. Town planners will be present to explain the commission's findings.

The power site acquired by the company in 1952, includes a total of 3.05 acres. It has been used as a pole yard in the past and is zoned as a light industrial area.

ASK LANDSCAPING

Main points of the commission's report are as follows:

1. It recommended that the B.C. Electric Co. landscape the site so that it will not affect the property values of nearby residents.

2. That additional land be acquired by the company to allow for future expansion.

3. That the sub-station be setback so that it won't interfere with road development.

The commission still felt that it was not in the best interest of the municipality to allow the erection of overhead transmission lines through the municipality. (The company's plan is to string a 132,000-volt line on steel towers from its Goward sub-station, Interurban Road, to the present site.)

AWAY FROM HOMES

But the commission said if the council felt that it would be too expensive for the company to lay its transmission on lines underground, it should see that the "line route" passes through districts where it will least affect households.

It suggested that the company co-operate with Saanich council in finding a suitable route for its transmission line. (The B.C. Electric Co. has already gone on record as being prepared to carry out these recommendations.)

The commission prepared its report at the request of Saanich council following an application by the B.C. Electric Co. in January for permission to use the Lake Hill district site for a power substation.

The company says it needs the power station in order to meet growing needs in the Gordon Head area as well as other Greater Victoria districts.

DEVALUATE PROPERTY

Householders residing near the proposed site are opposed to the project on the grounds that it will devalue their property. But town planners feel that this could be overcome if the project was properly landscaped.

Saanich council is not expected to make a decision until it has held a public hearing to discuss the project.

The BCE application for a site is the third the company has made since May of last year. Previous application were turned down by council in view of opposition from ratepayers.

Government to Pay For Royal Lighting

The provincial government has decided to pick up the tab for more than $3,000 worth of new lighting fixtures installed at Government House for the 1951 Royal visit.

Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace had the lights installed for the then Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh. He paid for them himself.

But a provincial order-in-council today revealed the government will foot the bill and retain the fixtures.

ANOTHER VICTORIAN, H. L. Campbell, deputy minister of education, has accepted an honorary doctorate of laws degree from the University of British Columbia, university president Dr. Norman MacKenzie said today. The degree will be conferred on Mr. Campbell at the spring convocation. Last week, Victoria's R. W. Mayhew, former Canadian ambassador to Japan and former federal cabinet minister, also accepted an honorary doctorate of laws degree. Mr. Campbell has done just about every job in the field of education. He started as a teacher in a rural school, became a principal, a provincial inspector of schools, vice-principal of the Victoria Normal School, municipal inspector of schools in Victoria, director of the provincial summer school of education, chief inspector of schools and assistant superintendent of education, and finally deputy education minister.

Speed of Car Described at Driver's Trial

The car which fatally injured John Anderson, 79, of Calgary, at the corner of Douglas and Yates Streets on September 5, 1954, appeared to be traveling faster than normal speed, Constable L. Pietz testified at a trial today of Morey Allan Futcher, charged with motor manslaughter.

Futcher, a 20-year-old Metchosis youth, is accused of being the driver of the car which struck the elderly man while he was crossing the Yates Street intersection. Anderson died shortly after the accident in the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Futcher's trial opened today before Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane. Joseph McKenna QC, acting as Crown counsel, and Hugh Botterell is defending. The city police constable told the jury he witnessed the accident.

"I observed a car hit two pedestrians," said the city police constable. "At the same time the car braked very rapidly." (Anderson at the time was crossing the street with a companion, Alfred Savage, 55, of Winnipeg.)

The constable testified that one pedestrian "flew straight in the air" and landed near the sidewalk. The other man, he said, made a somersault and landed on his head.

The case is continuing.

ASK The TIMES

Q—I have been told the gas and electricity rates have been increased. Do you know if this is true? B. E. A.

A—Your question is taken to refer to Victoria. A perusal of records shows the last increase in domestic rates for electricity here was brought into effect Jan. 18, 1952. Since 1952 there have been reductions in minimums which were to the advantage of customers. The last increase in commercial rates for electricity came into force Aug. 1, 1951. The last increase in domestic and commercial rates for gas came in 1948.

Q—Can you tell me anything about Everett Holmes, a writer for children? A. B.

A—He is not listed in works of reference in the literary field. There are no works by him on the shelves of the children's department of the Victoria Public Library.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

'Flu Hits More City Children But Slackens Off Up-Island

The influenza epidemic that has been creeping through Victoria schools for the last two weeks claimed a few more victims over the week-end, school board officials said today.

Campbell River, other stronghold of the disease on Vancouver Island, today reported absenteeism reduced 70 per cent as the epidemic appears on the wane. Elsewhere on the island the epidemic ranges between "finished" and fairly severe.

Victoria is municipal inspector of schools, John Gough, said while 900 of 4,940 secondary school students were away Friday, the number had risen to 950 today.

NOT ALL FLU

Mr. Gough claimed all the absenteeism here cannot be blamed on "flu. Colds, measles, chicken pox, and other diseases are included in the over-all total he said.

About 2,000 were absent from all schools Friday, he said, and he estimates the figure to be about the same today. Total enrolment is 15,000.

Summaries of local situations in Vancouver Island school districts are as follows (district numbers follow name of centre):

Victoria, 61—Absenteeism about 2,000 out of 15,000. A few more away from secondary schools today. School officials not alarmed.

Sooke, 62—Peak reached at the end of February, when Belmont School had 140 absent out of 350, is past. Absentee rate now is normal two per cent.

Sidney, 63—Present rate varies from zero to 25 per cent absenteeism between schools. Officials feel average is about 15 per cent, and that the epidemic in the Saanich-Sidney-North Saanich area is at its peak.

Ganges, 64—This district had a mild "flu epidemic in January, but health authorities feel Salt Spring Island has not yet been affected by epidemic that swept Vancouver Island.

Duncan, 65—Cowichan High School was hardest hit when 300 of total enrolment of 850 were absent. Less than 100 are away now, and officials feel the worst is over.

Lake Cowichan, 66—The worst "flu could do here was to keep at most 10 per cent away from elementary school and 12 per cent from high school. It has been prevalent for last 10 days or two weeks.

Ladysmith, 67—Only North Oyster School was affected, when 15 of 54 children were away. Other schools escaped and absenteeism was only slightly above normal. Officials hope the danger period is over.

Nanaimo, 68—Absentee rate has risen from about 8 per cent in February to 10 per cent at present as "flu hit children and staff alike. The school board noted 86 substitute-teacher days called for in February. The "flu sends sufferers to bed for from four to seven days.

Parksville-Qualicum, 69—A month ago more than half of the 1,012 school children in the district, between Nanos Bay and Deep Bay, were absent with "flu, but only scattered cases are reported at present. Disease affected both children and adults.

NORMAL

Port Alberni, 70—The Island epidemic started here in late January and drove the sickness rate up to 36 per cent in the high school and 30 per cent in two elementary schools. Remainder of schools were practically untouched. The epidemic has been over for weeks, and the situation now is normal.

Courtenay, 71—Two weeks ago a total of 500 children out of 2,750 in district were sick, and the board was on the verge of closing schools, but the epidemic is over. Both elementary and high school children were affected, and doctors have advised no competitive sports for two weeks.

Campbell River, 72—After a peak at the beginning of this week, the epidemic here subsided sharply on the week-end. Present figures show 75 students away out of 600-odd at elementary-high school, instead of 265 absentees in mid-week. Teaching staff is at full strength.

Mainguy Would Refuse If Office Of Lieutenant-Governor Offered

Vice-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, OBE, CD, Chief of Naval Staff, may retire late this year, but he will not be British Columbia's next lieutenant-governor.

In answers to questions at a press conference here today, which opened his annual inspection tour of West Coast naval installations, Admiral Mainguy said:

1. "In December, I will have been in my present position four years. It has not been decided whether I will leave at that time. Lately, four or five years has been the usual tenure of command."

2. "I have heard the rumors about the lieutenant-governorship of B.C. It has not been offered to me. Would I accept? No."

He also said the retirement, in July, of Rear-Admiral J. C. Hibbard, Flag Officer, Pacific Coast, would make possible the promotion to admiral's rank of another senior officer.

"Who this will be has not been decided," he said. He mentioned Commodore H. S. Rayner, who is to become chief of naval personnel May 27, as a "logical possibility." But, when asked if flag rank might be given to the commander of Naval Divisions (RCN, Reserve), he admitted this, too, was "a possibility."

Naval Divisions is now commanded by Commodore Kenneth Adams, who is here today on an official inspection tour of HMCS Malahat, the reserve establishment at Esquimalt.

At the end of February, he said, a total of 19,182 officers and men were in the regular RCN force. The maximum allowed under present Department of National Defense regulations is 20,000.

Admiral Mainguy said there are now 49 commissioned ships in the RCN, as against 41 at the end of 1953. The progress of new ship building is "not as fast as we had hoped for," because of new designs, new equipment, and the need to train new ship-building personnel.

He hoped HMCS St. Laurent, the Quebec-built prototype of the new anti-submarine destroyer escorts, would be commissioned before next winter, and the rest of the first seven ordered (including HMCS Fraser at Yarrow's Ltd. here) would be commissioned in 1956.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Between Times handy-dandy guide on how to deal with policemen:

When stopped by a patrol car and asked "What's the hurry—where's the fire?" say: "The fire is in my wife's eyes—I am already late for dinner, having been roistering with the boys."

If this statement is made with proper pathos, the understanding policeman will not only tear up the ticket, but will give you a note to your wife, explaining you have been detained giving expert advice on how to combat crime.

When accused of not stopping at an intersection, point to the sign on the corner which says "No stopping at any time," and say: "I am a law abiding citizen."

The policeman will give you a gold star for deportment on your report card.

When reprimanded for parking in a loading zone, say: "Well, oshifer, what I'm doing here ish getting loaded," and produce a bottle to prove it.

(Make sure the bottle is nearly empty, as you are not likely to see it again).

When apprehended for crossing an intersection after the amber light turned red, say: "Gee, I'm sorry, but I thought it would be "Forever Amber."

The policeman is bound to send you on your way rejoicing, after asking if you've read Kitty.

When stopped for passing another car on the inside lane, explain you couldn't pass the other car on the outside lane, because the other car was already in the outside lane, and besides which you have a bad cold and the doctor told you to stay inside.

The sympathetic, understanding policeman will then tell you his grandmother's favorite cold remedy, and offer you a piece of kleenex instead of a ticket.

If any of the above suggestions should chance to fail, through the abtiveness of the policeman involved, say: "I'll have you know, I'm a personal friend of the mayor." When asked how long you've known the mayor, say: "Since it was a filly."

Never fear to use Between Times handy-dandy guide when dealing with policemen. After all, you can get time off for good behavior.

INQUEST into the death of three-year-old Robert Ostfite, killed instantly when he fell under the wheels of a gravel truck Saturday, has been set for Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. at Hayward's Funeral Co. Ltd. The child was the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Kelly, 3106 Washington Avenue. Accident occurred outside his home at about 10:45 a.m. Saturday.

Rear-End Crash Injures Two

Two persons were rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital following an accident Sunday at about 2:40 p.m. at Government and Figgard Streets.

Treated at hospital and allowed to go home were William Adams, 76, of 541 Judah, and Miss Kathleen Renton, 30, of 902 Esquimalt Road.

Police said a bus driven south on Government by Michael Flemming, 3175 Yew, had stopped in a lane of traffic for a red light when hit in the rear by an auto driven by Miss Renton.

Mr. Adams received a large cut to the forehead, while Miss Renton suffered shock. Both were occupants in the car.

The chaps (those are leather front leggings for you dudes who don't understand) are of white fringed material, so that you can tell at a glance that these jeans are especially for cowboys. Your little boy will love them, and they're selling at $2.98.

If you want to go completely western, buy one of these reasonably priced cowboy shirts for him, too. Shirts very similar to the ones I saw today, but these ones are only $2.98! There are blue ones, green, tan, red, and a host of colors to choose from. The collars and pockets are trimmed with a darker piping, and the fronts are all embroidered with fancy cowboy designs... just like ones the tads see in the movies. What little boy doesn't like to get rigged up like a cowboy? I've yet to meet one!

As a matter of fact, I'll bet there are a lot of little girls who'd love to dress the same way! Sure, maybe they are tom-boys, but at one time or another, most girls are.

Easter's creeping up on us. And even if the days are full of noise and clatter from the little roughneck boy and tomboy girl in the family, Easter's the time for sprucing up and proudly wearing spring clothes... even the small fry.

For the little girl in the family, her true feminine instincts will show themselves when she sees the adorable lacework straw hat and matching purse I found today. The little bonnet is trimmed with either pink or powder blue ribbon, and has tiny pink flowers attached at the band. It's so delicate looking, that you're really surprised to feel how practical the construction is. The little purse has the same piping, and has matching spring flowers on it, too. For $3.25, this will make her Easter outfit complete... it's awfully cute.

You still haven't found the right dress for her, you say? Come—have a look at this one. There's a pert little plaid skirt, topped by a black

Also among the guests were members of the Oxford-Cambridge rugby team who played in Victoria last Saturday.

AS WE LIVE

Disobedient Daughter
Termed Problem Child

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

When a child is troublesome, parents usually conclude that he is a "problem child." But often the problem lies with the parents.

Q. "My daughter is nearly eight years old and is a real problem child. For example, the other day, at my sister's home, she was sitting too close to the television and I told her to move away. She got mad and huffed out of the room. Then when I told her to get ready to go home, she said I could go but she was going to stay. Before I knew what was happening, she had left the house, walked around to the back door and sneaked in. Does she need a good spanking, as I'm told? What does this behavior indicate, and what should I do about it?"

A. You should stop being so authoritarian and rigid in your dealings with your daughter. After all, she is no longer a toddler. She is quite old enough to be given reasons for what she is told to do. Her behavior indicates that she is resentful of the way you are treating her and is trying to show you, in her own way, that she won't be bossed.

As for spanking, nothing could make the situation worse. A girl of eight certainly would resent being spanked like a little child. She would be even more stubborn and obstinate than she is now.

For a change, why not try treating her as you would a grown-up? Give her some choice in what she is going to do.

If, for example, she is enjoying her visit to your sister's home ask her when she will be ready to leave. If there is some real reason for your leaving at a definite time, tell her what it is. Then she will see that it is not just a whim on your part.

Likewise, why not tell her why she should not sit so close to television? She is old enough to understand if you will only take the time and trouble to explain to her.

For your copy of Elizabeth B. Hurlock's new 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems," send 15c in coin with a self-addressed stamped envelope care of this newspaper.

TODAY'S RECIPE

CHEWY COCONUT FRUIT BALLS

One cup uncooked white rice, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 cups water, 1/2 cup dried apricots, 1/2 cup pitted dried prunes, 1/2 cup raisins, 1 cup pitted dates (a 6-oz. pkg.), 2 tablespoons beet or cane sugar, 1 cup shredded coconut.

Put the rice, salt and water in a 2-quart saucepan and bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover and leave over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on for 10 minutes. While the rice is cooking, grind the apricots, prunes, raisins and dates, using a coarse blade. Add the ground fruit and the sugar to the hot cooked rice. Mix well.

As soon as the rice and fruit mixture is cool enough to handle, form into round balls about 2 inches in diameter. If the fruit balls are to be used for a candy, form into smaller balls if desired. It helps to keep the hands wet while rolling the mixture to make the balls. Roll each ball in the shredded coconut. Cover and store in the refrigerator. Serve as a dessert perhaps topped with whipped cream, or as a candy. This recipe makes 15 balls, 2 inches in diameter.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Match Your Make-Up
With Spring Colors

Spring is such a beautiful season! Nature seems to outdo herself in setting the stage for romance. At this time she dramatizes our daily lives a bit with the soft greens and pastels she places all about us. It is impossible not to respond to her mood!

Spring is a soft season. There is nothing harsh about it, and if we are to tap some of its beauty we must blend in with the colorful but soft shades.

The colors you use in makeup can make all the difference in the world in the way you look, and it is a great mistake to think that you have tapped this beauty magic if you use the same shades in lipstick and rouge night and day. Many women do not know this, or if they do, they are not at all certain what changes should be made in makeup for different lights. With this in mind, I went to Max Factor, Junior, for some technical advice.

Never select a lipstick or rouge which contains an intensity of blue for it will augment any shadows you may have on your face. Also, the sun's ultra violet rays will add to the blue coloring. The lipsticks and rouges which are most youthful have little blue in them. These are the lovely pastel pinks—from the lightest to the richest party pinks to clear or fiery reds or a member of the vibrant, crushed rose shades. These will be flattering even when outdoors.

Select your foundation from the lightest and newest shades which match your complexion tones. Try the light shades which contain a hint of pink. Avoid yellow tones. The ultra violet rays mixed with yellow produce a sallowness which is not flattering.

The lighter and brighter makeup, which is the mode this spring, is perfect for daylight. However, when the artificial lights are turned on at night it might be any season. Therefore, the type of artificial light which lights up your nights is most important in choosing your lipstick and rouge shades.

Whenever possible apply your makeup in the same light in which you are going to wear it. If you are making up for daytime find the lightest window in your house by which to apply your makeup. Here you will be able to see how much makeup is needed and which colors look best.

Reception and Presentation

Staff members of the Attorney-General's Department gathered last Friday at the Dewdney Avenue home of Deputy Attorney-General H. A. Maclean for an early evening reception arranged to honor Mr. Earl Selkirk, departmental comptroller, who is retiring from the service. Attorney-General Robert Bonner presented Mr. Selkirk with an engraved wallet and a sum of money from staff members and Mr. Hugh Christie, warden of Okalla Prison, presented him with a gift from the staff there. Mrs. Selkirk received a bouquet of spring flowers.

Celebrates 21st Birthday

In honor of the 21st birthday of her daughter, Miss Kitty Dixon, Mrs. T. Dixon entertained with a buffet supper Sunday evening at her Admirals Road home. A large birthday cake frosted in white with deep red stand-up roses at the corner, was placed on the beautifully arranged refreshment table, which was centred with a floral centerpiece of daffodils and pussy willows. Friends present were Mrs. John Bigelow, Misses Adele Gault, Mimi Bavin, Gwen Bavin, Marlene Vance, Sonya Mortimer, Margaret Dobrocky, Helen Guzina, Jacqueline Ormond, Dinah Kerr, Anne Firth, Beverley Bark and Terry French.

Visitors at B.C. House

Mr. David M. Ker, who left Victoria on a round-the-world trip last November, visited British Columbia House in London, Eng., recently and signed the register here. Mr. Ker traveled from Victoria to Japan by boat, flew to Hong Kong and then to India. He journeyed from India to the Mediterranean and traveled through the western countries of Europe to Paris and from there to England.

Other Victorians who have registered at British Columbia House recently are Lt.-Cmdr. and Mrs. C. G. Pratt, Miss Phyllis Driver, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Miles and Master Timothy Miles, Lieut. and Mrs. William A. Nelles, Mr. Arthur Chetwynd, PO and Mrs. R. S. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. H. Farmer, Cmdr. and Mrs. W. S. T. McCully and Mrs. E. A. St. James.

Symphony Reception

Final reception of the season, arranged by the Women's Committee to Victoria Symphony Society, will be held in the Art Centre, 1040 Moss Street, next Monday evening, March 28, following the symphony concert in the Royal Theatre. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. K. English and Dr. and Mrs. D. B. Roxburgh will receive guests. Presiding at the refreshment table will be Miss Kathleen Agnew and Mrs. E. W. Arnott. Servers will be Mrs. Edward Goodall, Mrs. Leslie Hale, Mrs. T. L. McMaister, Mrs. A. T. McKee, Mrs. Eileen Shirley, Mrs. Sylvia Townsend, Mrs. Bernard Kjekstad, Mrs. Denis Humphries, Mrs. Roy Denny, Mrs. Jack Barracough, Mrs. E. A. Walls, Mrs. A. A. Baker and Mrs. Wm. Erb.

Dinner Dance Guests

A number of parties were arranged for the Empress Hotel supper dance last Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Johnston were celebrating their silver wedding anniversary, and friends present to share their evening were Mr. and Mrs. Alex McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. W. Forsyth, Mr. and Mrs. J. Chaplin, Capt. and Mrs. F. Unwin, Mr. and Mrs. E. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Paulin.

In another party were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Blyth, Mr. and Mrs. Art Luney, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Robb, Mrs. Mollie Selfe and Mr. H. Kay.

At a table together were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Lipsey, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Burridge, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sommers, and Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sinnott.

Vancouver Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Dugald Gillespie returned to their home on St. Charles Street on the week-end, following a visit with friends and relatives in Vancouver. While there they were guests at Hotel Vancouver.

Married in Shady Creek Church

Dorothy Lucienne Pearce became the bride of Vernon Roy Michell Saturday evening at a ceremony in Shady Creek United Church, Saanichton. Rev. W. Buckingham heard the exchange of vows between the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Pearce, of Vancouver, B.C., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Michell, Saanichton, B.C. The groom is a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Michell, Saanichton pioneers.

Spring flowers were placed in the church for the double-ring ceremony. Stanley Martin sang "Because" during the signing of the register, while Mrs. C. J. Cruickshank played the organ.

The attractive bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a ballerina-length gown of brocade satin, which was made by Mrs. G. W. Michell, aunt of the groom. Her shoulder-length veil was caught by a delicate headpiece of net and lily of the valley. A cresent bouquet of red roses and white carnations with heather sprigs completed her ensemble.

Matron of honor, Mrs. G. Doney, and bridesmaids, Miss J. Pearce, sister of the bride, and Miss D. Arola, were gowned in shades of pink, green and mauve respectively. They carried bouquets of spring flowers.

Best man was Wilmer Michell, brother of the groom, while ushers were Francis Michell, another brother of the groom and H. McLeod.

At a reception which followed in the Temperance Hall at Keating, a three-tier wedding cake topped with a case of pink rosebuds centred the main bridal table, which was covered with a lace cloth. White candles in silver holders flanked the cake and baskets of daffodils decorated the hall.

The bridal couple received guests while standing under a cluster of wedding bells. They were assisted by Mrs. Pearce in a navy dress with matching accessories and a pink rose corsage, and Mrs. Michell in a chocolate brown floral print dress with beige accessories and a yellow rose corsage.

Uncle of the bride, W. Hornbrook, proposed the toast.

For a honeymoon trip to the mainland, and in the United States, the bride chose a hyacinth grey suit with navy accessories. She wore a pink rosebud corsage.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Michell will live at their home on Telegraph Road in Saanichton.

Nurses Adopt Ethics Code

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian nurses have acquired a new code of ethics.

The Canadian Nurses' Association, representing some 38,000 nurses, has adopted the 14-point code drawn up by the 36-country International Council of Nurses at Sao Paulo, Brazil, in July, 1953.

The association had been working on a written code of its own, but will use the international one instead, says Lillian Campion, of Ottawa, nursing service secretary.

The code, printed on small cards for distribution to CNA members, covers the general aspects of nursing common to all countries and creeds.

14 PRINCIPLES

The code enumerates 14 principles, which include: The nurse must maintain at all times the highest standards of nursing care and of professional conduct.

Nurses hold in confidence all personal information entrusted to them.

Nurses do not permit their names to be used in connection with the advertisement of products or with any other forms of self-advertisement.

The religious beliefs of a patient must be respected.

Exchange Vows in Mid-April

Announcement is made today of the engagement of Jean Maxine Penson, RN, and Robert John Martelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Martelli, of Vancouver, B.C. The bride-elect, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Penson, 1194 Munro Street, is a graduate of Royal Jubilee School of Nursing. The wedding will take place at 7 p.m. on April 16 in St. Andrew's Cathedral with Rev. Father D. Johnston officiating. Attending the bride will be her fiancé's sister, Mrs. Hugh Eland, Vancouver, as matron of honor; her cousins, Misses Joyce and Janet Loughlean, as junior bridesmaids. The groom-elect's brother-in-law, William Elliott, Port Renfrew, will be best man.

Church of Our Lord Scene Of Watson-Phipps Wedding

In a quiet ceremony before intimate friends and relatives in the Church of Our Lord on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Annabelle Mary Phipps exchanged marriage vows with Henry Watson. Dr. J. G. Brown officiated. The church was decorated with baskets of daffodils and lilies for the occasion.

The bride wore an afternoon dress of soft powder blue silk with shirred bodice and sleeves. Her hat was pale pink and her bouquet of pale pink roses. Her brother, J. Edgar Miles, gave her in marriage. Matron of honor Mrs. George Robb wore a street-length dress of oyster-toned brocade with hat and shoes in avocado green and carried a bouquet of green orchids and freesia. Best man was Rudolph Williams, brother-in-law of the groom, and ushers were Michael Phipps and Timothy Williams.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's father, Theo Miles, 511 St. Charles Street, where the newlyweds were assisted in receiving guests by their sisters, Mrs. Leonore Minnis and Mrs. Rudolph Williams.

A toast to their happiness was proposed by Peter Cairns. The honeymoon is being spent at Kon-a-way Lodge, Lantzville, B.C., the bride traveling in a smart grey suit, grey straw hat, black patent shoes and bag and mink stole. On return, Mr. and Mrs. Watson will live at 1214 Palmer Road, Victoria.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included Dr. and Mrs. James E. Miles, Mr. and Mrs. David Kirkwood, Mr. and Mrs. Brian Weld, Mr. Bud Minnis, all of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Miles and Mr. and Mrs. J. Edgar Miles of Nanaimo and Mrs. W. C. Gustafson, Toronto.

Jaycee-Ettes' Bridge Tournament

The Junior Chamber of Commerce bridge tournament sponsored by the Jaycee-Ettes of Victoria has now reached the semi-finals. It has been in progress for eight weeks. Teams: Mrs. E. Cleworth and Mrs. E. Warren; Miss Tingley and Mrs. A. V. White; Mr. W. G. Beals and Mrs. Sandy Sandahl; Mr. J. Goldie and Mr. E. Ware won the quarter-finals and are now competing for a place in the finals.

A concert of ballet music with a commentary by Fernau Hall, 839 Yates.

Committee has so far garnered stock of ties, foodstuffs, garden tools, furniture, musical instruments, household goods and at least one car.

As in previous years, first come, first served with best bargains. Sale opens at 9 a.m., lasts all day.

Central Saanich Councillor H. A. Peard has been appointed district representative to Capital Regional Planning Board. J. W. Ismay will be Central Saanich advisory member. The appointments complete the board. Other members represent Saanich, Oak Bay, Victoria, Esquimalt and the province.

Two motorists were fined in Saanich police court Thursday on charges of exceeding 50 miles per hour speed limits.

George Gordon Bigelow, 2028 Runnymede, was fined $35, and Rolf T. Ekstram, Royal Oak, $30.

Police said Bigelow was paced at 75 on Pat Bay Highway and Ekstram was paced at 70 on East Saanich Road. Both offenses occurred March 10.

There will be a joint meeting of the Vancouver Island branches of British Columbia Engineering Society and Engineering Institute of Canada in the Douglas Building cafeteria next Friday, March 25, at 8 p.m. Films will be shown.

Annual Rotary Superfluity Sale when costly appliances and other goods go for "peanuts" and receipts go for charity, will be staged Saturday April 2 at 839 Yates.

Trades and Labor Congress short course for labor leaders and active unionists opens in Victoria this evening in TLC Hall, 615 Pandora.

Lectures will be given nightly from 7 to 10 during the three-day course designed to help unionists discharge their duties more effectively, and keep pace with the changing needs of the labor movement.

Victoria's business firms are to be asked to contribute toward the cost of erecting a number of distinctive signposts in this area which will be of help to visiting sight-seers.

The tourist trade group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce is anxious to have some signs posted before summer. The group has selected about 40 locations where signs could be posted to mark historical landmarks or points of general interest.

Bob Nelles, tourist trade chairman, revealed Friday the city council's public works committee has been acquainted with the proposal and is now considering to what extent the city might participate.

POLICE KILL BANDIT BUT PALS FACE CHARGE

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP)—Police captured two men Friday night and shot to death a third man they said acted as "inside man" for the attempted holdup of a super-market.

Under New Jersey law, when a holdup man is killed during commission of a crime, his confederates are held responsible for his death.

As a result, the captured men, Joseph Slobogden, 28, and Frank Deventer, 27, were charged with armed robbery and first-degree murder.

Esquimalt Doesn't Expect Benefits From Grants Plan

Little hope is held by Esquimalt Reeve A. C. Wurtele that proposed changes to the Municipal Grants Act in Ottawa will increase financial aid to the municipality.

It was announced in Ottawa last week federal grants to municipalities will be almost doubled under a bill being introduced.

Grants in lieu of taxes on crown property will increase from $2,975,000 in 1953-54 to $6,000,000 in the 1955-56 fiscal year.

TWO PER CENT

Two amendments to the act propose grants will be paid where federal property represents more than two per cent of total assessment. Grants are now paid only on property above four per cent of that total.

Also, the grant will represent 100 per cent of the normal tax levy instead of 75 per cent.

But when the same plan was mooted last year, Reeve Wurtele was told by Victoria MP Dr. Frank Fairley the changes won't affect Esquimalt's special arrangement with the federal government.

Esquimalt now receives a flat figure of $42,000 in lieu of taxes on federal lands.

"It looks to me that our grant will remain unchanged," said Reeve Wurtele.

Federal properties in Esquimalt, comprise a third of the municipality.

Motorist Fined For Highway Parking

Charges of parking vehicles on a highway brought fines of $5 and $3 costs each for two motorists Saturday in Colwood RCMP court.

Fined were Oscar Dalton Davis, 240 Cook Street, and George Aspin, 1798 Lee Avenue.

OUR "LITTLE GRASS SHACK"

IN SEATTLE ... by Mauri Hula Humber

Last nite in Seattle, our wad we did blow-a. In a languid spot that is called "The Aloha." The head waiter bowed, sed "follow me." The whole atmosphere ... of Wai-ki-ki. "Creepers," I said ... "this place is dim," "Shuuuush," sed the G.F. ... coz THIS was her whim. We puzzled the menu ... but hadn't a clue. Hanging over our heads was an out-rigger canoe. The walls were thatched, the ceiling bamboo. And in a big pit ... was a bar-be-queu. "Will you STOP" ... she implored, "acting the clown. And you're reading that menu upside down." "OH," I replied ... "so sorry, dear. They sure could do ... with some light in here." "It's supposed to be dim," ... she sed, half-frantic, "I think it's thrilling ... & really romantic." "Guess so," I grinned, & squirmed in my seat. "But HOW we gonna know ... what we should eat?" She flashed me a look ... somewhat forlorn. As she tried to act ... "To the Manner Born." The waiter returned ... a colorful server. I pulled another boner ... I ordered "horses-derv." "She" got flustered again ... reached for the men-u. As the waiter came tactfully to the res-cue. "The Ka-hanna-mo-koo cocktail ... may I suggest?" "O.K.," I replied, "and YOU, decide the rest." "She" looked at me ... as meek as a mouse. When I agreed ... to the Speciality-of-the-House. Well ... serve it he did ... & I'm telling you. We sure felt we were ... in Hono-lulu. We had barbecued pheasant & Diamond Head fishes, a never-ending flow of exotic dishes. "It's no use" ... I chickened ... "I can't eat this dessert. I'm so darn full ... I actually hurt." She was stuck with hers too ... a coconut cream. "I'M SURE" ... she laughed ... "I just burst a seam." On a shell-fish tray ... I left some green mule. So Aloha ... Yaca Hula ... and HICKEY DULA.

THREE WIN PHOTO CONTEST

Winners of a unique photo identification contest conducted by Robert Fort, Victoria photographer, were announced today.

Mrs. E. V. Finland, 948 Old Esquimalt; Charles Cooper, 3138 Davin and Mrs. George Robinson, 743 Sayward, were winners, and received portraits for prizes.

Among the 10 figures from an earlier day which appeared in Mr. Fort's window were Chief Justice Gordon Hunter, Senator R. F. Green, Hon. John Hart, Sir Arthur Currie, and Magistrate George Jay.

N.Y. Dog Expert To Judge Trials

Noted North American dog authority Blanche Saunders, New York, will judge Greater Victoria Dog Obedience Training Club trials in June.

While on the coast she will attend trials in Vancouver and Portland, Ore.

Miss Saunders has written a book titled "Training You to Train Your Dog," which is regarded as a guide and authority by obedience clubs in all parts of the country, and she has advised the Victoria club on specific problems in the past.

Motor-Coach Operators Buck Charter Plan for Bus Tours

Transportation operators Friday opposed a proposal of Western Canada Travel Service, Victoria, to run mystery bus tours on Vancouver Island.

At a Public Utilities Commission hearing, conducted by PUC motor carrier superintendent A. B. Jackson, Cecil Rhodes of C. & C. Transportation Co. Ltd., said the scheme could "undermine the whole industry."

George Willis, of Western Canada, sought PUC permission to charter buses from operators, and then sell tickets for mystery tours, or resort tours, of 16 Vancouver Island points this summer on a trial basis.

The PUC will rule on Mr. Jackson's findings.

Mr. Rhodes said Western Canada could charter buses from a firm, and then go into competition with the same firm. The effect "might not be bad this year, but it could undermine the whole industry next year or the year after," he said.

Conway Parrott, of Vancouver Island Coach Lines, and H. R. Halls of the B.C. Electric, said Mr. Willis proposed conducting sightseeing tours during the lucrative tourist season, without standing the expense of keeping regular schedules the remainder of the year.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

TUESDAY, MARCH 22, 1955

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Despite friend's gloomy forebodings which vex you, there is also present a chance finally to get your money matters in better shape than for a long time past. Be very co-operative about long-time obligations.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—Unsatisfactory official seems to let you down just when you need the most help, but understanding friend has the answer in all partnership, co-operative relations, so listen to understand, then follow this wisher.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Stick strictly to your job, despite big urge to get away to some new delight. Make sure you do what is expected of you by all connected with public, worldly or credit duties.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)—Slidestep apparently important meeting over some deep-seated question until you have found right way to handle this by using modern methods. P.M. fine for romantic pleasures, recreational outlets. Be happy.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Problem about lack of harmony between home tie and outside contact not your responsibility; keep your attention focused upon working out personal duty so that your goodwill from public is maintained intact.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Get little chores behind you as early as possible; then get off with all well-rounded partners who have it in their power to give you boost in right direction. Listen to their suggestions. Then follow.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TUESDAY...
Tuesday's child is one of those very interesting youngsters who will have a great deal of compassion, but you should early teach that sitting around feeling sorry for others—or for one's own self—helps nothing, and that it's therefore, in early life see to it that courses in personnel, social service vocations and allied occupations are given so that these talents can be wisely utilized through life.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

TUESDAY, MARCH 22, 1955

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Fussing about having good time takes you away from that chance now yours to make your whole environment more charming, attractive, harmonious. Get more color, efficiency in your surroundings.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Unsatisfactory condition at home requires you get away from it for awhile, let it work itself out. Get off to some attractive place, recreation with fixed colleague and have good time. At such meeting, benefits flow easily.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Be careful on highway as well as with any comments you make that could be adversely construed. This is fine day for you to stick conscientiously to your duties, get them behind you. Clean, file, arrange better diet.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Try to use every spare moment to enhance your own personal charm by those treatments, etc., that bring out your magnetic quality. P.M. fine for romance, sports.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Don't try to force your ideas, will on others. Get yourself more practical than you've been lately. Think out ways for making those property more as you would like it to be. Be very down-to-earth.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Stop fussing about that hidden anxiety that you allow to keep your mind in squirrel case. Look at your personal appearance, your social contacts. Get health in good shape.

Festiva Opening To Stress Variety

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON
Tiny vocal and piano soloists occupied this morning's activities at two centres of the Greater Victoria Musical Festival.

Miss Nellie Thoen, Portland teacher and adjudicator, started judging primary and junior classes in piano at St. John's Hall. Her kindly personality and detailed discussion of performances was conveyed with just the right manner to appeal to the young pianists.

At the Metropolitan Church schoolroom, Glyndwr Jones heard a class of 24 girl singers, 11 years and under, and four classes in which those from 12 to 16 appeared.

In approaching these junior vocal classes, he told his audience, he was seeking, first, a lovely natural voice; second, imagination; third, accuracy. He was constructive, friendly and encouraging.

At First United Church this afternoon, starting at 4.30, first of the twilight sessions featured lieder, contralto and mezzo-soprano solos, Grade A, and bass solo.

Official opening of the festival will take place this evening. Harold L. Campbell, deputy minister of education, giving the opening address. High school girls' chorus, intermediate piano classes final, choral societies, performers' violin solo, senior organ solo, and church choirs, Grade A, will comprise the program. Oak Bay Schools Band will play for half an hour before the program starts at 8.

This morning's results were as follows: Junior vocal: Girls' solo, 11 years and under, Frances Scott, 84; Susan Basanta, 83. Girls' solo, high voice, 12 and 13 years, Margaret Magee, 84; Jean Chalk, 80. Girls' solo, low voice, 14 to 16 years, Gail Morrisson, 81; Glenys Mee, 80. Girls' solo, 14 and 15 years, Beverly Lidstone, 82; Laurie Noble, 81. Girls' solo, high voice, 16 years, Jean Barlow, 82; Frances Wainwright, 81.

Piano: Junior sight reading, 10 years and under, Jane White, 78; Philip Adamson, 78. Junior sight reading, 12 years and under, Alan Radcliff, 84; Wendy Harbord, 82. Solo, 7 years and under, Leonard Reid, 176; Carolyn G. Heal, 176; Heather Pinchin, 175; Virginia Newstead, 175; Patricia Caldwell, 173. Junior sight reading, 13 years and under, Dana Thompson, 80.

On Saturday afternoon, duets and two piano classes were adjudicated. Also the Beethoven class, 16 years and under, and intermediate concerto, 16 years and under. Results were: Duet, 19 years and under, Charlotte M. Kay, Pat Chatwin, 87. Two piano, 19 years and under, Charlotte M. Kay, Pat Chatwin, 87. Duet, 16 years and under, Anne Mayhew, Jean Hammond, 85; Lorna Fatt, Joy Elliott, 84. Two piano, 16 years and under, Jean Hammond, Anne Mayhew, 83. Two piano, 15 years and under, Jean Bartholomew, Carole Jones, 85; Kenneth Elder, Gordon Britton, 84. Beethoven, 16 years and under, Robert Parker, 81. Intermediate concerto, 16 years and under, Harold Menkes, 88; Jean Hammond, 86.

Tuesday morning's program will include children's choirs, church choirs in age group 17 to 21 years, high school boys' choir, high school folk song, junior piano duets, speech art classes. In the afternoon choral and vocal classes will continue, with a twilight session in which oratorio solo for male voices will be heard, as well as baritone and dramatic soprano, Grade A classes.

BILLY'S CHOIR 3,700 STRONG

GLASGOW, Scotland (UP) - Billy Graham discovered today he has 2,500 too many volunteers for the choir which will provide hymns for his six-week "tell Scotland" crusade.

The crusade opens tonight, and there is so much enthusiasm that 3,700 persons had volunteered for the big choir for which 1,200 seats had been allotted in Kelvin Hall.

"We expect all these 3,700 will turn up tonight," Jerry Bevan, one of the Graham advance team, said.

On Saturday afternoon, duets and two piano classes were adjudicated. Also the Beethoven class, 16 years and under, and intermediate concerto, 16 years and under. Results were: Duet, 19 years and under, Charlotte M. Kay, Pat Chatwin, 87. Two piano, 19 years and under, Charlotte M. Kay, Pat Chatwin, 87. ## 'Most Critical Hour' At Hand for Church Graham Tells Scotland

Evangelist Takes Back Seat
As Worshipper, But Not for Long

By ALVIN STEINKOPF

GLASGOW (AP)—American evangelist Billy Graham took a back seat at his first religious service in Scotland Sunday and then preached to a half-empty church.

While thousands were clamoring for tickets to Graham's six-week "Tell Scotland" crusade which opens today, the evangelist made a surprise visit to the Downhill (Presbyterian) parish church.

A few minutes before the morning service started, Graham, wearing a dark suit, took a seat in a back row. He was recognized by the minister, Rev. William J. Baxter, who described Graham as "this messenger with a new voice, which speaks in a soft, North Carolina accent."

"Billy Graham is not here to preach a new gospel, but the old gospel in fresh terms," Baxter said, in asking the American to speak.

'MOST CRITICAL HOUR'

From the communion table in front of the pulpit, Graham said:

"I sincerely believe that the church today is living in the most critical hour of history."

"If the church does not present a clarion call to the peoples of the world there is a distinct possibility that the entire race could be wiped out in the foreseeable future."

"When we lost enthusiasm and fire for evangelism — at home and abroad — our churches begin to disintegrate and treat."

"We come to you in all humility, not to teach you, not to tell or show you. We come as your servants in Christ's name. Pray that God may send a religious awakening to Scotland that will spread throughout the world."

DEDICATES SELF

Later, at a service in Glasgow Presbyterian Cathedral, Graham dedicated himself to his task in Scotland.

Wearing red and black robes and holding his Bible aloft, he said:

"We promise by God's grace to be true to this book. . . . We pray that we may be channels through which the will of God will flow."

The 600-year-old cathedral was thronged.

The American evangelist got a welcome on his arrival Saturday that caused traffic jams in Glasgow and reverberated in the hills and glens of highlands and lowlands. He is here to start a six-week evangelistic crusade.

Scotsmen discovered he is of Scottish origin and it was as if a favorite son had come home. Graham wiped everything else off the front pages of Glasgow's three evening newspapers.

"He bounds from train with beaming smile," said a black headline across the top of The Evening Times.

WELCOMED BY THOUSANDS

"Thousands sing a welcome," said an equally black headline dominating The Evening Citizen.

"Glasgow opens its arms to Billy," said The Evening News in three smashing lines on page one.

Graham was a little bewildered by it all.

"It's going to be harder than the London crusade last year," he said in an interview.

"In London, no one expected

These days most people work under pressure, very much, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acid and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "fired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulates the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter.

False Teeth Need A Special Cleanser

Don't Brush Your Plates! Soak Them in Polident As Dentists Suggest

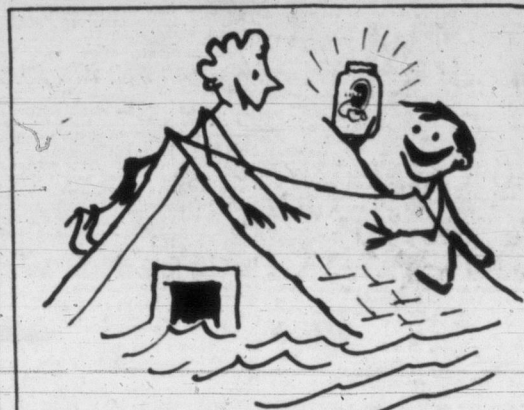

Polident is the recommended way to clean dentures, banish Denture Breath. Just follow these easy rules.

1. Never use a brush on them! Your dental plates are much softer than natural teeth. Brushing wears down fitting ridges so they get loose.

2. Never use soap or toothpaste! They can leave film which collects bacteria and food particles, a major cause of offensive "Denture Breath."

3. Use a soaking-type cleanser made for false teeth only. . . . Polident! Polident cleanser is recommended by more dentists than any other. No brushing, no handling of soapy plates. Polident gets where a brush can't reach.

Best of all, Polident always leaves false teeth odor free. Get the world's largest selling denture cleanser, Polident, at your drug counter.

Jobless Figure At Peak

Postwar Record

(CP and BUP Dispatches)
OTTAWA—Unemployment in Canada soared during February to new postwar peaks.

Only bright spot was the Pacific coast where the number of job-seekers declined by 2,848 to 62,110, about 10 per cent of the 613,439 applications for work on file with National Employment Service.

In every other area the number of NES job applications advanced substantially.

The new figures came on the eve of Parliament's renewal on Tuesday of its debate on unemployment, its causes and cures.

The reports issued today emphasized that "while unemployment continued to climb in February, the pace was slower than last year."

Two reports were issued.

Bureau of Statistics said the number of jobless seeking work on February 19 was 379,000—up 16,000 from the 363,000 listed January 22. On February 20, 1954 the comparable total was 315,000.

Federal Labor department reported 613,439 persons were registered for work in NES offices on February 17. This new post-war record was an increase of 43,857 from January 20 and a jump of 54,370 from February 18, 1954.

Neither figure is offered by the government as an accurate count of the unemployed. Labor and political spokesmen in the capital generally cite the higher figure for the most accurate.

While the number of jobless rose sharply there also was some increase in the number of workers with jobs. The labor department estimated that in the week ended Feb. 19, the number of employed totaled 5,012,000, about 42,000 higher than in the similar week of the previous year.

COULDN'T ABSORB EXTRA

But the economy, at its February pace, wasn't able to absorb the expansion in the labor force. The number of persons in the labor force totaled 5,381,000 on Feb. 19, up 106,000 from last year.

The labor department and bureau of statistics, in a joint statement, said "a significant change in employment this year from a year ago was the smaller average monthly decline in employment. Employment declined in the last three months on an average of 71,000 a month compared with 83,000 a year ago.

"The most significant change in employment from last year has been the much smaller seasonal decline in non-farm employment, the monthly average decline for the last three months being 33,000 compared with 73,000 last year. The rate of increase in those without jobs and seeking work has been considerably less rapid over the last three months than a year earlier."

PACIFIC AREA DOWN

Referring to the 613,000 applications for jobs in employment offices, the labor department said all regions—with the exception of the Pacific—shared in the rise in applications.

Compared with January, the biggest increase was in Quebec, where the number of applications for work jumped by 25,082 to 200,799. Applications in the Maritimes increased by 9,751 to 80,001; in the Prairies by 6,985 to 90,852; in Ontario, by 4,887 to 179,677.

But in the Pacific area, better conditions in the logging industry helped reduce the number of applications by 2,848 to 62,110.

Big CNR Deficit

OTTAWA (BUP)—The Canadian National Railways today reported a net 1954 deficit of $28,758,098 after the sharp revenue slump in its history and the deepest cut in expenses since 1932.

THE POWER OF POSITIVE THINKING For Young People

(A revision of Dr. Norman Vincent Peale's best two-year best-seller "The Power of Positive Thinking" the following is one of a daily series of articles specially directed to young people but helpful to all ages.)

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

CHAPTER VI

YOU GET WHAT YOU EXPECT

"It's useless to send my boy to college," a troubled father said to me. "He's had to carry five subjects all the way through high school: four advanced, and one make-up. He seems to have a genius for failure. I'm greatly disturbed about his future."

I tried to reassure the man, telling him of other boys I knew who, as they grew older, got onto themselves, so to speak, and learned the curiously simple but potent answer to turning failure into success. And this proved true in the case of this boy; he did acquire the secret. His personality began to focus, his powers to fuse. He went through college very well indeed. He became a leader in school activities, and his marks were well up. After graduating he got a good job and while still in his twenties was a prominent person in town.

Not long ago at a luncheon I could not help admiring the dynamic young man who presided—the boy whose father had said he had a genius for failure. He had, I knew, worked up an original idea into a coming business and was a leader in his community. I asked him about the reasons for his success.

QUITE SIMPLE
"It is quite simple," he replied. "I merely learned the magic of believing. If you expect the worst, you get the worst. If you expect the best, you will get the best. If you think right, things will go right. It all comes of practicing a verse from the Bible."

"And what is that verse?" I asked.

He smiled at me and his smile was charming. "You ought to know," he said. "You gave it to me. You emphasized it in a talk I heard you give one Sunday when I attended your church. 'If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth.' (Mark 9:23)!"

That, in essence, is the simple answer which anyone—boy or man, girl or woman—can follow who is trying to turn failure into success. Train your mind to believe, to think positively, to have faith in God and yourself. Expect the best and you will get the best. It sounds miraculous, but isn't at all. Think and live!

Marcel Pelletier, goaltender for Victoria Cougars, may not be in uniform Tuesday night when Cougars meet Calgary Stampede in the first game of the Western Hockey League semifinals.

Pelletier cut his foot in an accident in his home Sunday night and two stitches were needed to close the gash in the sole of his foot.

At press time, the Cougar front office announced it has sent out the call for spare goalie Bentley even though it's not definitely known yet whether Pelletier will be able to play.

LONDON, PARIS BACK RUSSIAN TALKS PLAN

WASHINGTON (UP)—Democrat senator, Walter F. George, today urged President Eisenhower to call a top-level conference with Russia as soon as the Paris pact to re-arm West Germany are ratified. State Department unofficially welcomed the suggestion, and indicated it is "in line with Eisenhower administration thought." In Paris informed sources gave full approval "provided France is invited." London sources said Senator George's suggestion meshes perfectly with Churchill's ambition to end the "cold war" before he quits office.

300 Homeless In Quebec Fire

$700,000 Damage as 35 Buildings Destroyed at Nicolet; No Deaths

By SHIRLEY MORRIS, Canadian Press Staff Writer

NICOLET, Que. (CP)—An early-morning fire, raging out of control for almost seven hours, today destroyed 35 buildings and caused $700,000 damage in this community 80 miles east of Montreal.

The damage estimate was made by Mayor Ubald Caron, an insurance broker.

He said 31 stores and 75 tenements, housing an estimated 300 persons, were destroyed by the fire that leaped from one building to another with lightning speed. Nine blocks in the central section of the town of 3,751 were destroyed.

There were no casualties. Mayor Caron attributed the lack of casualties to the fact that a fire truck with siren screaming roared through the fire area and the town until all houses were cleared.

BEGAN IN RESTAURANT
The fire started in a Panet Street restaurant owned by Albino Mathieu and quickly spread to three houses and then jumped to adjoining Notre Dame Street, the town's main thoroughfare.

It whipped through blocks on both sides of Notre Dame Street. Firemen pumped water from the nearby Nicolet River to quell the outbreak, one of the worst in the province since disastrous fires in Rimouski and Cabano in 1950.

The homeless were quickly offered shelter in neighboring religious institutions. Brother Arthur of Academie de Nicolet, a Christian Brothers school, invited all homeless to the institution.

The Hotel Dieu Hospital also threw open its doors and the Gala Theatre offered shelter to others.

Meanwhile, Red Cross units from Montreal and Quebec City began arriving to administer to an estimated 300 people who were made homeless by the blaze.

Many of the buildings destroyed housed businesses on the street level and dwellings upstairs.

CLIVED TO HELP
Fire brigades from the nearby municipalities of Drummondville and Pierreville were called in to help regular firemen whose ranks were swelled by all available able-bodied men.

At the height of the blaze flames shot more than 200 feet in the air and were visible by residents of Trois-Rivieres, Que., 15 miles away on the north shore of the St. Lawrence River.

There was no evidence of fire around the plane, which rested on its belly. The wings were ripped off and the engines lay about 300 yards to the rear of the fuselage.

A day-long rain had made the field muddy, hindering rescue operations. Ambulances and other rescue cars had to churn through mud to get close to the scene.

Some of the victims were carried a half-mile to ambulances.

At New York, an American Airlines spokesman said: "Airlines officials emphasize that there is no way of knowing at this time what caused the accident."

John Crosswhite, a Springfield youth who was among the first to reach the scene, said: "There were groans coming from the wreckage. Everything seemed to be covered with mud. Bodies were strewn over a wide area."

Babcock Used Choir To Cover Jail Break

(CP and BUP Dispatches)

VANCOUVER—A police dragnet scoured the B.C. coast area today for a convicted bank robber, facing 20 years in prison and 21 lashes, who used a visiting church choir to cover his escape from Oakalla Prison Sunday, afternoon.

William A. Babcock, 33, described by B.C. Court of Appeal as a "menace to society" was awaiting transfer to B.C. Penitentiary after his appeal had been denied.

(Victoria Police Chief John Blackstock said a close watch was being kept on the possibility of Babcock taking refuge here. John Bertelsen, who was given the same sentence as Babcock for the bank hold-up, is a former West Saanich resident who was sent to prison for the wounding of former city police constable Stanley Cornish in a stolen car shooting at Hillside and Shelbourne in July, 1946.

PROBE BY A.G.? (Mainland reports that Attorney-General Robert Bonner would initiate a special investigation into the escape could not be confirmed at the Legislative Building today. Mr. Bonner conducted a probe after Clifford Dawley, also a former Vancouver Island resident, escaped from Oakalla. He still is sought.)

RCMP and prison officials said Babcock, dressed in civilian clothing, evaded guards by mingling with a group of about 24 men and women who had been conducting a church service in the prison grounds.

Babcock and Bertelsen were sentenced Jan. 28 to 20 years in prison and 21 strokes of the paddle for the armed robbery of a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada here Jan. 14 in which three men escaped with $30,000. The three were captured later the same day and the loot recovered. The third man, John Waslychnuck, still is awaiting trial.

46 CONVICTIONS
The sentence, stiffest bank robbery penalty in the history of the B.C. courts, was appealed by Babcock. In turning down the appeal, Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson said Babcock had "an amazing record of something like 46 convictions" and called him "a menace to society."

A prison official said Babcock was wearing civilian clothes because he was awaiting transfer to the B.C. penitentiary when he attended the church service.

He apparently mingled with the church choir as it left the building in which the service was held, slipping past guards stationed at the door.

As the choir moved on to a second building for another service, Babcock apparently made his way over the wall to freedom. He was missed a few minutes later when prisoners attending the first service were returned to their cells.

All off-duty prison guards were called in and police throughout the lower mainland notified immediately Babcock's escape became known.

A car crashed a roadblock on Pattullo Bridge at 2:30 a.m. today and eluded police and prison guards. However, police said they doubted whether Babcock was in the vehicle.

An RCMP tracking dog, flown from Vancouver Island, picked up a trail outside the prison walls and followed it across prison farm fields to a main highway, where the trail ended.

Near-Riot At Vancouver Girls' School

VANCOUVER (CP)—Six police cars were called to the Girls' Industrial School here Sunday night to quell a near-riot which is reported to have started after some of the girls drank lemon extract.

A few hours earlier, three girls escaped from school, and they are still at large.

School officials have declined to release details of the disturbance which resulted in two calls for police help.

It took nearly an hour to bring the disturbance under control. Reporters outside the building heard screams from inside the building as police attempted to quell the disturbance.

One girl shouted from a window, "It all started with a bottle of lemon extract."

She said some of the girls drank the extract and then refused to go to bed.

Churchill Retirement Rumors Gain Strength

Latest Talks Have British Prime Minister Stepping Down at Easter; May Retain Seat

LONDON (AP)—Britons took it for granted today that Winston Churchill is stepping down as prime minister within weeks but no one expects him to go into retirement by the fireside.

Only the 80-year-old statesman's political enemies seemed to harbor any suspicions the impetuous Churchill might change his mind at the last minute.

There was talk in parliamentary lobbies that Churchill will keep his seat in the House of Commons. This would give him a platform and an official status. He would always be available for an assignment as a special government emissary.

It was admittedly difficult to picture a British cabinet with Churchill as a subordinate minister. There are precedents, however, for former prime ministers doing this.

Neville Chamberlain did so for a few months in the Second World War. Lord Balfour did so in the First World War.

Churchill is expected to hand over the leadership of the Conservative party—and with it the prime ministership—to Foreign Secretary Eden before Parliament recesses for Easter.

THE COMMENTS
The Times, an authoritative independent newspaper which seldom delves into political speculation, says: "It now seems increasingly likely that he (Churchill) will resign about Easter and that the Queen will then call upon the foreign secretary to form a government."

Speculation is already rife on the prospect of an early general election. Guesses for the date ranged between June and October. The Churchill Conservative government has until October 1956 to run but can call an election any time before then.

The 57-year-old Eden is laying the groundwork for the campaign ahead—going before the voters with a somewhat younger cabinet than under Churchill. There is a possibility Eden may hold the dual jobs of prime minister and foreign secretary for a short time.
